SIXTY KILLED IN REVOLT AT PERU CAPITAL

Attempt to Overthrow Sanchez Cerro Government Proves Unsuccessful

INSURGENTS FORCED TO FLEE TO CALLAO

Presidential Palace Attacked — State of Siege Declared by Ministry

(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press)

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 20.—A small group of soldiers and armed civilians attempted to overthrow the provisional Government of Luis M. Sanchez Cerro today, but were forced to flee to Callao, where, after severe fighting, they were overpowered and taken prisoners.

Government troops who besieged them in the old fortress at Callao, now used as a customs house, lost forty men, and others were wounded, and several civilians who were watching the fighting, were killed by rebel bullets. Twenty insurgents were slain, and many received wounds.

LIMA REMAINS CALM

Lima remained calm throughout the short-lived revolt, and while a few shops closed their shutters and troops were stationed in the main plaza, business generally went on as usual.

While the fighting was in progress at Callao the Government declared a state of siege and Provisional President Sanchez Cerro issued a proclamation declaring that the authors of the attempt would be punished severely.

LEGUIA ADHERENTS

The insurgents, numbering about sixty, were declared by authorities to be adherents of Former President Augusto B. Leguia, who was deposed last year by a military junta headed by Sanchez Cerro. They were led today by General Pablo Martinez, Colonel Zorilla Lujan and Captain Arenas, chief of the Callao police.

The revolt started just before dawn this morning when the insurgents attacked the presidential palace where, just last week, the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, were entertained by President Sanchez Cerro. Their plot had become known in advance, however, and they were quickly forced to flee.

Gandhi Talks To Followers At New Delhi

NEW DELHI, Feb. 20 (CP).—Mahatma Gandhi was again a prisoner today; but this time the walls which held him were composed of 200,000 followers, and the term of his sentence was fifteen minutes.

It was at the largest outdoor independence meeting held since the Mahatma's release from jail. Gandhi's followers, frenzied and cheering, surged around his automobile and virtually held him captive. The windows of his car were smashed during the stampede.

Gandhi told the multitude that he was doing everything possible to bring about peace through his conference with the Viceroy, Lord Irwin. He spoke as "your humble ambassador" and said these conversations had been conducted in the friendliest manner, but the result was "in the hand of God."

WOULD LABEL COAL IN B.C.

Coal Sales Act Designed to Extend Consumption of Home Output

Introduced by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, in the Legislature yesterday, the Coal Sales Act received its first reading. One of the most important provisions of the bill, it is explained, is that each colliery producing coal for sale in the province will secure a registered name for its product, under which it would be sold, the provision acting as protection to the consumer in securing what he orders, and preventing the blending of coal.

Leave to sell blended coal could also be obtained from the chief inspector of mines, it is provided, in cases where such a course is justified.

TO ENCOURAGE USE

The Coal Sales Act would insure that all coal sold in the province would be advertised and sold under its registered name, invoices also disclosing that fact, and whether or not the coal is of British Columbia or other origin. Coal advertised for sale, it is contemplated, must be designated as the output of the country of its origin, and of the particular mine concerned. In this way, it is considered, consumption of British Columbia coal will be encouraged. Other, and general provisions, are made in the proposed measure, to come up for second reading next week.

Auto Industry in Canada Is Given More Protection

Imports From United States to Have Fixed Discount for List Prices for Duty Purposes—Action Taken to Afford Employment in Factories of Dominion

U.S. Manufacturers Considering Plans to Build Branch Plants

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—Automobiles of all prices coming into Canada from the United States for sale will have a fixed discount of 20 per cent from list prices for duty purposes, effective today. Behind this announcement, made by Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, lies a controversy between Canadian manufacturers and certain retailers which has been engaging the most studious attention of Cabinet Council.

The action taken was for the protection of the automobile industry in this country and to afford employment for Canadian automobile workers.

Dominion manufacturers had contended all along that this action would guarantee millions of dollars in new employment for workers and the industry in this country. Certain automobile retailers in Canada of high-priced motor cars had opposed the request, but the Government considered that a "spread" of 20 per cent all round was sufficient to be allowed retailers in this country from the list price of United States manufacturers.

TO COME BEFORE HOUSE

Automobile tariff schedules, which number many, will, it is understood, come before Parliament for revision at the next session of Parliament.

Automobiles coming into Canada from the United States for sale have been entering on a list price, less a discount, and duty has been assessed on the reduced value. The range in this discount has varied all the way from 10 to 30 per cent, and Canadian manufacturers have protested that in order that plants of the industry might continue and Canadian workmen be protected, it was essential to place a maximum on this discount.

URGES ROADS EXPENDITURE

Opposition Member Says Present Is Bad Time to Economize

LIBERALS AIR VIEWS AT HOUSE SESSION

"I believe it would be wise and sound policy on the part of the Government to borrow a little more this year than is evidently intended," Dr. J. J. Gillis (Liberal), Yale, confided to the Legislature, yesterday, in the course of a review of economic conditions in the province, in which he found praise for the ministry in some particulars, and criticism in others.

Dr. Gillis moved the third amendment advanced by the Opposition, one censuring the Government on its public carrier policy, argument on which was stood over until Monday, when the House adjourned at 5 p.m. for the day.

At the risk of being called inconsistent, Dr. Gillis stated, he would ask the Government to spend more money this year than indicated in recent references of Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, to a policy of Spartan economy. It was right for the Minister of Finance to view matters from the standpoint of economy, but, he said, there were limits to what was fair and reasonable economy in regard to the times.

NO CAUSE FOR GLOOM

"It would be only fair to see that a little more money is spent this year," said Dr. Gillis. "I suggest this is a very bad time to economize.

BANDITS ROB HOTEL GUESTS

Three Vancouver Gunmen and Woman Accomplice Threaten Victims' Lives

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20 (CP).—Three armed bandits, with a woman accomplice, staged one of the most spectacular robberies in Vancouver in recent months, when they held up the night clerk and four guests in the lobby of the Murray Hotel, Hornby Street, at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

Brandishing revolvers and threatening the lives of their victims, they escaped in an automobile driven by the woman with a total of $56.

HOTEL IS RAIDED

The guests were talking in the lobby when the bandit trio rushed through the door and raided the hotel.

Norman Johnson, night clerk, was robbed of $40 in cash, he reported to police. The four guests and the amounts they lost were: William Gordon, $5; A. McDonald, $5; William Ashcroft, $3, and R. Moldowan, $3.

HELD UP AND ROBBED

Norman McLeod, North Vancouver, reported that he was held up by two armed bandits and robbed of $10 at Pender and Hamilton at 6:15 a.m.

Premises of Kydd Brothers, West Hastings Street, were broken into and $2 in cash stolen.

Fires at Government Farm at Lethbridge Cause $15,000 Loss

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 20 (CP).—Damage of $15,000, which included the loss of valuable buildings and 2,000 bushels of finest seed grain, was caused by two fires at the Government experimental farm here last night. Indications were that the fires were of incendiary origin, and Lethbridge police have started a thorough investigation.

Avalanches Take Lives Of Fifteen

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—Avalanches in the Alps today were reported to have taken fifteen lives, including nine children, at two separate places.

Advices from Berne, Switzerland, said that a family of seven including two children were thought to have perished in an avalanche that hurtled down the mountainside, crushing and partly carrying away the post hotel in Lukmanier Pass, in the Canton of Grisons.

The building was inhabited by an aged couple named Wenzig and their family. Two of the bodies were recovered, and there was small hope of finding the missing persons alive.

From Vienna came news that a peasant named Mair and seven children were killed when their house was destroyed by a huge avalanche which swept down upon the Valley of Villgrattem in the Eastern Tyrol, Austria. Three mills were also swept away.

Harry Moll Is Stricken While Prospecting—Companion Plays Heroic Part

UCLUELET SKIPPER DARES DESTRUCTION

Lash Invalid to Ladder and Fight Through Breakers in Small Canoe

UCLUELET, Feb. 20.—A story of devotion and courage; of a brave prospector and a heroic skipper of a West Coast fishing boat who risked his life in a canoe amid the wild breakers off Cape Cook to succor a stricken man and his companion, comes to light with the admission of Harry Moll to the Port Alice Hospital. It is an epic of the storm-beaten coast and tangled wilderness.

Harry Moll and W. J. Galliger, both of Vancouver, were pals and prospectors. Several weeks ago they commenced a trip across the northern end of Vancouver Island towards the extremity of Cape Cook, a rock-ribbed and wave-beaten promontory.

One night, Moll, who is a powerfully-built man, much larger than his companion, announced that he was going to take a walk and examine the country before returning to their little camp for supper. Galliger undertook to prepare the meal.

DID NOT RETURN

When Moll did not come back at the appointed hour and daylight began to fade, Galliger became anxious, as his partner carried no light. After waiting for a short space of time, Galliger set out with a light in search of his pal. With great difficulty he made his way over dead-falls and the slippery rocks and driftwood of the beach, flashing his light and calling out above

Republicans In Spain May Call Strike

MADRID, Feb. 20 (AP).—Leaders of Left Wing, Labor and Socialist groups from all over Spain were gathering in Madrid tonight for the executive committee meeting tomorrow, which is to decide whether to call a general strike now or later as the next move in the campaign for a Spanish republic.

The strike, intended as a protest against the new monarchist cabinet of Premier Admiral Juan Ansar y Cabanas, and, in fact, against any government but a republic, may be called immediately, but more probably it will be postponed and held as a threat indefinitely over the heads of the Government.

Military Police Unable to Check Chinese Brigands

CHUNGKING, China, Feb. 20 (AP).—Three thousand brigands are engaged in wholesale banditry along the Szechwan, Kweichow and Hunan provincial borders, despite the efforts of provincial military forces. Reports indicated the outlaws are endeavoring to enter Szechwan Province. Local military authorities have ordered three regiments against the raiders.

SENATE URGES SILVER PARLEY

President Hoover Asked to Enter Negotiations With Other Gov'ts Toward Stabilization

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP).—The Senate today suggested to President Hoover that he enter into negotiations with other Governments, looking to the restoration of the price of silver.

Without debate the Senate adopted a resolution suggesting that President Hoover negotiate with other Governments to obtain suspension of their policy of debasing silver coin and selling silver on the world market, and proposing he call an international conference to agree on the use of silver as money.

The chief purpose of the resolution, its sponsors said, is to obtain suspension of Great Britain's policy of dumping silver from India on the world market.

The low price of silver, the subcommittee said, was the chief cause of the decline in trade between the United States and the Orient and South America.

GOLD UNCOVERED BY HIGH WATERS

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Feb. 20 (AP).—Telegrams from Esmeralads report that high waters of the Rio Verde, crumbling the banks of the stream, have brought to light appreciable quantities of worked and powdered gold, tending to confirm an old legend that gold had been buried in the region by early Spanish conquistadors.

Earthquake Recorded

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—The seismograph at Kew Observatory recorded an earthquake early this morning with the estimated epicentre in the vicinity of Korea. The initial impulse was very sharp but amplitudes of the main phase were small. The shock was believed to have originated at a greater depth than usual, probably about twenty-five miles.

FRUSTRATES ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF KING

Two Assailants Open Fire at Albania's Monarch in Vienna

MEMBER OF HIS STAFF IS KILLED BY BULLETS

King Zog Assists Constables to Capture Would-Be Assassins

VIENNA, Feb. 20 (AP).—King Zog, of Albania, one of the most closely-guarded monarchs of Europe, whose life has been plotted against many times, was fired at tonight by would-be assassins, but escaped injury.

The King was leaving the Vienna Opera House, surrounded by his staff, when the Albanians fired a number of shots into the group. The bullets missed the king, but his adjutant, Major Topolia, fell dead, and a court official, M. Lipozova, was wounded in the leg.

OWES LIFE TO ADJUTANT

According to one report, King Zog owed his life to Major Topolia, who saw the assassins take aim and dashed in front of his royal master. He received the bullets intended for the king in his own breast.

The King helped police and his chauffeur to seize his assailants. Their names were given as Asiz Cami and Thlelzzi. They were said to belong to the Opposition party in Albania.

NARROW ESCAPE IN 1924

This was not the first time King Zog has narrowly escaped death. In 1924, when he was Premier of Albania, a student shot at him in Tiranza, slightly wounding him.

Zog was proclaimed king by the National Assembly of Albania in 1928, and won himself the title of the hardest working monarch in Europe."

Mountaineers of his country declared a blood feud against him, and at times he was virtually a prisoner in his palace because of the fear he might be assassinated were he to appear in public.

MAN DROWNED ON WEST COAST

Olav Sunde, New Westminster, Believed to Have Perished in Storm

BAMFIELD, Feb. 20.—Last seen when he went overboard from the fishing boat Magna as the craft was heading for rocks off the mouth of Tsusiat River in a storm, Thursday afternoon, Olav Sunde, New Westminster, is believed to have drowned.

H.M.C.S. Armentieres and the Bamfield lifeboat searched for the body yesterday, while Charles Jacques, of Burnaby, companion of Sunde, and Dave Holliday, of Cloose, scoured the shore for trace of the missing man.

Sunde and Jacques, forced into Port Angeles earlier in the day, had left again when the wind moderated. As they neared the Island coast on their way to Barkley Sound the storm again gathered force, and wind and waves drove them toward the breakers fringing the rock-strewn coast.

BOAT ESCAPES ROCKS

Fifty yards out Jacques saw Sunde go overboard and disappear. Jacques himself stayed with the boat, and by chance it was driven through the rocks to the sandy beach where it grounded.

After searching in vain for any sign of his partner, Jacques made his way to the government lineman's cabin at Tsusiat, where he got into communication with Holliday at Clo-oose. Holliday immediately left for Tsusiat, which is about six miles west of Clo-oose.

ALBERTA BUDGET REVEALS DEFICIT

EDMONTON, Feb. 20. — Heavy estimated deficits both for the fiscal years 1930 and 1931; reduction of $5 in auto licence fees; no fresh taxation of any sort; contingent liabilities of $5,584,558 under Wheat Pool guarantees; appointment of a fiscal agency to advise with respect to terms and times of bond flotations—these are highlights in Alberta's twenty-fifth annual budget, tabled in the Legislature this afternoon by Provincial Treasurer Hon. R. G. Reid.

While no definite estimate is made of the deficit for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1931, Mr. Reid states that this will in any case be substantial, and will represent Alberta's first deficit in six years.

SEEKS LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Dominion Department Announces Changes in Fisheries Regulations

Longer Herring Purse Seines Allowed on East Coast of Vancouver Island—Minimum Mesh Set for Salmon Nets—Sockeye Season on West Coast to Open Earlier

Limit for Sport Fishermen Cut; Supervisor's Power Broadened

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—Various changes in fisheries regulations, applicable in British Columbia, have been approved by the Governor-in-Council, according to a statement issued today by the Department of Fisheries. They affect salmon fisheries principally, but include also a reduction in the individual daily bag limit permitted sport fishermen from twenty-five to fifteen fish.

Other new regulations include abolition of the annual closed season for crab fishing in fisheries district No. 2, which includes the Queen Charlotte Islands and the Mainland area from Smith's Inlet northward, and extension of the length of herring purse seines permitted on the east coast of Vancouver Island from 200 fathoms to 275.

FOLLOWS VISIT HERE

Many of the changes follow upon representations made by fishing interests to the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, and the deputy minister, W. A. Found, when they visited British Columbia in the latter part of last year.

Among the more important changes in the salmon fishing regulations is one which establishes the minimum mesh for salmon purse seines at three and a half inches. Another will permit salmon gill nets used in district No. 1, apart from the Fraser River, to have a maximum length of 200 fathoms as compared with a previous maximum of 150 fathoms.

REGULATIONS AMENDED

Under the amended regulations the sockeye fishing season of the west coast of Vancouver Island, and in the Nimpkish and Hayden areas on the east coast, will open on May 15 in each year instead of on June 1.

Other changes approved include one giving the department's chief supervisor for British Columbia authority to prohibit, at any time the use of salmon gill nets of such sized mesh as he may find it undesirable, from the standpoint of conservation needs.

View of Province Invited by Ottawa On Radio Control

BRITISH Columbia, in common with other provinces in Canada, has been invited to express its view on the question of radio control, as to whether regulation of the industry is to be a Dominion or provincial matter, Premier Tolmie confirmed yesterday. Pending consideration of the point, no reply has yet been made by the Government, he said. The question arose in the East, where the Province of Quebec challenged the right of the Federal Government to deal exclusively with radio control.

U.S. CARAVAN TO VISIT B.C.

Automobile Tour to Be Made of Okanagan, Fraser Canyon and Vancouver

BORDER STATES ARE SHOWING INTEREST

As an outcome of the caravan that last year traveled from Vancouver to Hazelton, and which included among its members many prominent United States men, another caravan will view the scenic attractions of British Columbia this year, Premier S. F. Tolmie has been informed.

The tour will be organized at Wenatchee, under the direction of Ray W. Clark, of Wenatchee, president of the Okanogan-Cariboo Trail Association, and Gus M. Hafenbrack, of the Western Hotels organization, and will tour the Okanagan Valley, crossing to Kamloops and returning home via the Fraser Canyon, Harrison Hot Springs, Vancouver and Seattle.

At least forty cars will comprise the caravan, according to present plans, the Premier was advised by Mr. Clark, whom he met at Olympia, and it is possible that this number may be exceeded. It is intended that an advance party will shortly go over the route to make a survey of the available accommodation along the way.

VALUABLE PUBLICITY

As a result of publicity obtained from the caravan tour of last year, tourist experts in Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia and elsewhere through the Pacific Northwest say British Columbia may expect an unprecedented number of visitors from Washington, Oregon and Idaho this year. In the past the publicity efforts of British Columbia organizations have been more or less concentrated on California and Eastern fields, with the result that the neighboring border states have not been fully advised of the scenic wonderland that lies immediately to the north of them.

Since the Hazelton trip of last June, largely through the efforts of Aashel Curtis, P. E. Sands, G. M. Hafenbrack, Charles Garfield, W. A.

LIBERALS LOSE STURDY MEMBER

Lord Jolcey Resigns From British Party Owing to Disagreement With Leader's Policy

LONDON, Feb. 20 (CP). With the explanation that for some time past he has not been in sympathy with the "Socialistic" policy of the present-day Liberal party, one of the sturdy members of the old Liberal brigade, Lord Jolcey, has resigned from the party. Lord Jolcey — he was James Jolcey, colliery owner, at the time was a Member of the House of Commons when Prime Minister Gladstone introduced the first Home Rule measure for Ireland, forty-four years ago.

In the letter announcing his resignation Lord Jolcey explains he has not the slightest sympathy with the party's recent procedure in regard to the Trades Disputes Bill, when Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George announced he would support the Government on second reading of the bill and that Liberal objections would be taken up in committee stage.

Lord Jolcey was chief proprietor of The Newcastle Daily Leader when that journal enjoyed its most influential political era.

Governments' Liability Placed at $22,455,000

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 (CP). — Total liability of the prairie governments on guarantees of bank advances to the wheat pools is approximately $22,455,963.19, on the basis of figures of February 16, Premier John Bracken announced in his budget speech to the Manitoba Legislature tonight.

Manitoba's share of the liability, he stated, is approximately 3,491,811. "These amounts may be reduced or increased by the time the balance of the 1929 crop is disposed of," explained the Premier, "depending on whether the price of grain rises above or sinks below the price on February 16." His estimates assumed the unsold grain would bring the price obtaining on February 16.

Alberta's liability on the pool guarantees, as at February 16, were announced today in the Legislature at Edmonton by Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer, as $6,284,558. Taking the announced prairie total liability, as estimated by Mr. Bracken, this would place Saskatchewan's liability at $12,679,814.

Until the unsold stocks of the 1929 crop are disposed of, only approximate liabilities can be calculated. What the unsold stocks are today is unknown, and officials of the central selling agency of the wheat pools here refuse to divulge the figures. Increases in market values would reduce the liability of all governments.

CHILE TO GREET PRINCES TODAY

Throne Heir and Brother Will Fly From Antofagasta to Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 20 (AP).—The Prince of Wales will arrive here by air from Antofagasta tomorrow afternoon.

Tonight the Prince and his brother, Prince George, are aboard a special train speeding from La Paz, capital of Bolivia, toward Antofagasta. The Prince's squadron is expected to halt at Copiapo at noon for luncheon and to land at El Bosque military airfield here about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Elaborate preparations have been made to welcome the royal party to Chile at midnight. Tonight Admiral Edgardo von Schroeder, Minister of Marine and chairman of the reception committee, will board the Prince's train at the border town of Ollague and the Foreign Minister, Manuel Barroscastanon, will greet them at El Bosque on their arrival at the capital. It is expected that more than 50,000 persons will cheer the princes tomorrow when they drive through the streets of Santiago.

When the princes leave their train at Antofagasta they must depend on airplanes to take them the rest of the way to Santiago.

ALBERTA TO REDUCE APPROPRIATION FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION

EDMONTON, Feb. 20.—Alberta will spend $350,000 less on road construction next season than in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1931, if estimates brought down in the Legislature Friday by Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer, are approved in so far as they concern the Public Works Department.

For the building of main highways it is proposed to spend $1,750,000 in the year ending March 31, 1932, compared with $2,000,000 in the preceding twelve months. On district highways, expenditures of $500,000 are estimated for 1931-1932 as against $750,000 for 1930-1931. For secondary highway construction the comparative estimates are, 1931-1932, $300,000; 1931-1931, $150,000.

General Strike in French Coal Areas Might Take Place

Miners' Union Will Order Walkout in March Unless Companies Renounce Intention to Reduce Both Working Hours and Wages

By CAMILLE LEMERCIER
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

PARIS, Feb. 20.—A general strike in all the coal fields will be ordered early in March by the Miners' Union unless the companies renounce their intention to reduce both working hours and wages. This is the first serious consequence of the business depression and growing unemployment in France, and the Government so far has been unable to find any compromise between the miners and the companies.

Unrest among the miners began a few days ago when the companies in the coal district of St. Etienne Massif Central decided to reduce wages about 8 per cent, and at the same time reduce the number of employees, and when companies in other districts, particularly in Northern France, decided to follow this example by denouncing the wage agreements in force at present.

SEEK AGREEMENT

Premier Pierre Laval, who, as Minister of Labor in former Cabinets, successfully handled several labor disputes, will personally try to bring the companies and the miners to some agreement in conformity with present conditions, but the viewpoints of the two parties at present are entirely divergent.

The Miners' Union charges the companies with mismanagement and states that, considering that the French coal output is 30,000,000 tons less than French needs, the necessity of a reduction in production is unthinkable. They ask the constitution of a national coal bureau which would suppress competition between companies and organize a national market. The miners also say that the coal problem can be settled only through international measures and advocate the creation of an international coal bureau under the supervision of the League of Nations.

COMPANIES FACE DILEMMA

The companies answer that whatever the cause of the crisis is, they are now facing the dilemma of either reduction of the cost of production or bankruptcy.

Behind this conflict lies the general opposition between employers and employees on the best methods to fight business depression and unemployment. The employers say that the cost of production must be reduced by cutting wages, thus giving to industries a chance to increase their exports.

The workers' opinion, as expressed by Leon Jouhaux, president of the French Federation of Labor, is that the world suffers not from overproduction but from underconsumption and from growing economic nationalism, and that the best means to hasten the end of depression would be to keep at the same level, if not increase, the buying capacity of workers.

URGES ROADS EXPENDITURE

We should put our house in order, and prepare for the more prosperous times I am confident will return to British Columbia. This is a time for faith in our province, and there is no cause to feel the least bit pessimistic over it."

Dr. Gillis paid tribute to Hon. R. W. Bruhn, as a practical man who had been scrupulously fair in all his dealings. The only criticism he would offer of the former Minister of Works, Hon. N. C. Lougheed, he said, was that he had attempted to do too much work in too short a time.

Dealing with business depression, the member for Yale said there was too much unemployment in Canada, a normally prosperous country, and that the condition appeared to be world-wide. There was something wrong with an economic system that produced abject poverty alongside comparative luxury and wealth. Rt. Hon R. B. Bennett, Dr. Gillis stated, had promised to remedy the unemployment problem, but the facts were that more than 100,000 unemployed had been added to the number of jobless since inception of the Federal relief scheme.

RATIONALIZED TRADE

Raising the tariff walls, or their complete removal could neither afford a solution of the causes of unemployment, he considered, as trade depended on the two-way flow of goods to the mutual advantage of the buyer and seller. Neither could governments control the distribution of gold and silver, he said, or increase its rate of circulation.

"The symptom many call overproduction I am inclined to say is underconsumption," Dr. Gillis continued. "And this underconsumption comes about through the concentration of wealth into comparatively few hands. The folly of believing this condition can last forever is clear to any thinking man. There is no use trying to cover up the facts, and governments must face them."

There were approximately 300,000 men in bread lines in Canada, Dr. Gillis continued, or a very serious proportion of its population of approximately 10,000,000. In his professional capacity he had visited many homes and found conditions that gave rise to thought. Unless this situation was faced, and some solution found for the unemployment problem, the possibility of industrial revolution would remain.

The member for Yale said he would give the Provincial Government credit for good intentions in its administration of the unemployment relief funds, but that plan had thrown a considerable burden on municipalities, and there had been waste, perhaps incidental to so large a scheme.

SOLUTION IN FARMS

It was in agriculture, he believed, that British Columbia would find a permanent solution for its troubles, a prosperous condition among farmers being at the base of every prosperity reflected in national welfare. Dr. Gillis said he believed with every confidence that British Columbia would regain her former station.

Dr. Gillis said he had not been aware of any concrete results arising from the British Columbia coal conference, and urged an educational campaign to popularize mechanical stokers. He believed any curtailment of tuition at the University of British Columbia and at the Normal Schools would be a mistake, if it meant withdrawal of equal educational opportunities for all boys and girls in the province. Education was the last department on which to practise economy, he stated.

WAS TREATED FAIRLY

In his own riding, said Dr. Gillis, in reverting to unemployment relief, he was pleased with the way in which he had been met by officials of the Government. He had received just as fair treatment as if he had been a member of the Government benches.

After a serious address, in which he touched on a large number of matters, Dr. Gillis formally moved the amendment standing in his name. The amendment was ruled in order by Mr. Speaker, and argument opened on its terms, which were, in substance, as follows:

"Whereas pursuant to the High-Way Act, the Government did grant a licence conferring exclusive right to operate public passenger vehicles over certain arterial and other highways, and specifically granted a licence to the Vancouver Island Transportation Company, Limited, conferring upon such company the exclusive right to operate public passenger vehicles over (named) routes, this House feels in duty bound to advise that it considers the issuance of said licence as an unwise exercise of the statutory discretion granted to the Crown under the said Highway Act."

George S. Pearson (Liberal), Nanaimo, jumped into the fray. He said he warned the House last year that this would be a dangerous precedent. The franchise, he had stated, was worth $500,000, and his opinion had apparently been shared, he said. Since the granting of the licence to the Island transportation company, one train had been taken off an Island run and mails transferred to the bus line which took its place, he asserted.

The undertaking made to the Legislature last year had been broken, Mr. Pearson charged, reciting what he said had been a definite promise by Hon. N. S. Lougheed, then Minister of Works, that no exclusive privileges would be given under the new powers conveyed in the Highway Act.

READS COPY OF ORDER

A. M. Manson, K.C., then read an order in council in which, he stated, a certificate had been granted to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, conferring "a special exclusive right to operate public vehicles over the routes referred to" for a period of five years, with the privilege of renewal for a further term of five years, subject to full observance of all regulations controlling such operation. A public carrier's licence had been issued to the same company following this, Mr. Manson stated. Only three months had been allowed, he averred, for other operators on the roads to dispose of equipment.

Mr. Manson crossed swords with Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., minister without portfolio, who invited him to recall the Queen Charlotte Islands pulpwood franchise. Mr. Manson suggested that this and other matters concerning the former regime should be forgotten.

Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, adjourned the debate on the Gillis amendment.

T. D. Pattullo, Leader of the Opposition, asked for a return of the reports made by Dr. W. H. Gaddes, of the Land Settlement Board, on irrigation, and other reports on the Dewdney, Sumas, Creston, Nicomen Island projects as well as a report on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway natural resources and colonization.

Mr. Manson moved for a return of all correspondence between the Government and W. Sanford Evans on the fruit marketing investigation.

FIVE NEW BILLS

Five Government bills were presented for first reading, including measures to amend the Phosphate Mining, Noxious Weeds, Moving Pictures and Fire Marshal Acts, and a new act respecting the shipment and sale of coal, which are explained elsewhere.

The House adjourned at 5 p.m. until Monday at 3 p.m., when debate on the Gillis amendment will continue.

Portion of Business District of Alberta Town Prey of Flames

EDMONTON, Feb. 20 (CP).—Flames razed one-quarter of the business district of Chipan, forty-three miles northeast of Edmonton, yesterday afternoon, inflicting damage estimated at $60,000. Of this, $25,000 was covered by insurance. Two hours after the discovery of the fire the flames, whipped by a strong east wind, had reduced a dozen business buildings to ashes.

U.S. CARAVAN TO VISIT B.C.

Averill and other Seattle men who made the excursion, intensive publicity has been centred on British Columbia's playground, while Frank Terrace, the picturesque pioneer of American good roads, has carried the story of the attractions of this province through to the Atlantic States.

UNIQUE GATHERING

One result of the efforts of these Washington men was evidenced in the "goodwill visit" of His Honor R. Randolph Bruce, Premier Tolmie, Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Hon. R. L. Maitland and party to Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia this week.

Not only did the trip go a long way towards cementing a neighborly spirit, but the leaders of the party were accorded a most unique opportunity, through the courtesy of Hon. Roland H. Hartley, governor of the state, of addressing a joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives. Here in the magnificent capitol of the state, more than one thousand persons were shown colored views of the beauties of British Columbia, and were urged to visit this province

WEST COAST FISHER RESCUES PARALYZED MINER AT CAPE COOK

the sound of the wind and the roar of the breaking waves.

At last he almost stumbled over the huddled form of Moll. At first he thought he had fallen and injured himself on the sharp rocks, but a hasty examination by the weak rays of his light disclosed that the man had suffered a stroke.

OUT ALL NIGHT

It was impossible to carry the heavier man back over the difficult and pathless shoreline in the darkness, so making the sufferer as comfortable as possible, Galliger stayed with him all through the long, wet, cold night.

At day-break he commenced the Herculean task of carrying Moll back to their camp. The partially conscious man was suffering intense pain, and it was only after hours of labor that Galliger managed to carry him to their camp.

It was impossible to leave Moll to seek help, so Galliger stayed by him, giving him the very best attention that he could under the circumstances. He realized the necessity for prompt medical attention, but was faced with the indisputable fact that if he left his friend to seek such aid the man would die. So Galliger did the next best thing, he rigged up a distress signal, which he raised in a most conspicuous place, and anxiously scanned the sea for possible succor.

Days passed without the appearance of a boat that might see his signal. Boats give the reef-fringed Cape Cook as wide a berth as possible.

GOES TO RESCUE

Then one day an American fishing boat drove past the place and picked up the signal, but did not attempt a landing. The captain did, however, seek out a Canadian vessel, and made contact with the Ucluelet motor vessel Manhattan, Captain George Hillier.

Captain Hillier at once started for Cape Cook. Carefully he guided his little vessel through the dangerous reefs to as close a position as he could do with safety. Then, launching a canoe, he went alone through the breakers to the shore.

Having heard Galliger's story the captain appreciated the urgency of the case, and the two men decided that the only chance for Moll was to get him aboard the Manhattan as quickly as possible.

DANGEROUS TASK

Improvising a stretcher out of a small ladder they wrapped Moll in blankets and bound him to the stretcher in order to prevent him rolling off. Laden with the weight of the three men, the small canoe was reduced to only a few inches of freeboard.

Captain Hillier then commenced a terrific struggle to get his overburdened little craft through the breakers and out past the inner reefs to the Manhattan. Time after time he was beaten back, and only his expert skill as a canoeman prevented the swamping of the canoe. At last he won.

Arriving alongside of the fishing boat it was with great difficulty that the unconscious man was lifted on board. It was found impossible to get him below, so he was covered with more blankets and the rude stretcher was lashed to the deck of the boat.

Then started a fight out into the Pacific seas to round the cape and win Port Alice. This was accomplished owing to the seamanship of Captain Hillier.

Admitted to the hospital, it was found that Moll's condition was serious. Little improvement has been shown since.

Captain Hillier and the brave crew of the Manhattan have achieved an enviable reputation as lifesavers on the West Coast.

HIGH FINANCE

Sir,—May I as a citizen of North Saanich please be permitted space to answer that most astounding letter written to our esteemed Premier, the Hon. Dr. Tolmie, by G. H. Walton, and published in The Times on Saturday, February 14, and to his explanation of his scheme of high finance.

When I, in common with many other citizens of North Saanich, came to live here, we were never informed or read in our agreements of purchase for our properties that our policies of citizenship and of our political parties elected, were to be based upon a scale acceptable to or to be allied to those as dictated by the Sidney Lumber Co. They may have $600,000 invested and 135 employees. This is a small although appreciated portion of the population of North Saanich, which does not entitle them to interfere with or dictate our policies as private citizens, more especially from a man who is not a resident of the district.

Co-operation is a sadly misunderstood word. Can one with any stretch of imagination at all confuse the two parallels of 63.9 per cent of $500 per month and 63.9 per cent of 40 cents per hour as the true interpretation of the word co-operate?

There may be one or two men who have been discharged for inefficiency in the mill and that does not mean that they cannot make good in other spheres. There are also a few men who have of their own accord left the mill. The balance of the citizens on relief work are probably unknown to Mr. Walton as he is to them and they resent this insult to the full extent.

Court Frock Coat Is Made in Canada

How much is your tailor bill? Figure it out at the rate of $1,500 a garment and see how you like it. Here is Charles Sweatman wearing a $1,500 Windsor court frock coat made for Hon. Frank Stanfield, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, and said to be the first of its kind made in Canada.

As regards his references to the scale of wages, Mr. Walton is entirely wrong. The wages paid when the provincial Liberal party was in power was $3.75 per day. In the Conservative party platform in the last provincial election an increase was promised for all lower wage scales to bring them into line with the existing cost of living. The backbone of the province of British Columbia in no uncertain manner gave Dr. Tolmie the answer.

As to the "basic industries"; about twelve months ago the Dominion of Canada found itself in the midst of an almost world-wide financial crisis and its trade in a very depressed state. There came to you, Mr. Walton, and to every other citizen of the Dominion, a man called "R. B. Bennett," now our Honorable Prime Minister, who offered you and your manufacturing confreres, as a solution to these difficulties, protection for your industries. In return you were to guarantee to maintain the scale of wages then being paid and not to increase the prices you were then obtaining for your products. At the same time, in co-operation (note that the true meaning of the word is interpreted 50:50) with the provinces, he offered a relief plan to the country, in which the total amount subscribed was to be used for man labor in every possible manner and that labor-saving devices were not to be bought or their cost of running when inevitable to be taken out of this allotment. The scale of wages to be paid not to be less than the rates existing throughout the Dominion. Again "the backbone of the country in no uncertain manner gave the Hon. Mr. Bennett his answer.

There are apparently still a few "die-hards" who cannot yet realize that the majority of their fellow-citizens have decided what they want. Also that no other political party offered these constructive policies and were chosen by the population as a whole and not by a noisy element!

So far these pledges have been kept, with one exception, viz., the glass industry. If Mr. Walton remembers, they were quickly and effectively dealt with. One can only hope that the lumber industry will receive the same attention, more especially in view of the world-wide attention one country, with probably as great, if not greater, lumber industry than our own, is receiving, and which in defence of this criticism claims its system of management and payment of wages is the same as in other countries. One is tempted with the thought that that country must have collected part of its evidence at Sidney.

In view of these facts, what right have you, Mr. Walton, to criticize or deplore the actions of our honorable Premier, Dr. Tolmie, who is carrying out in an honest and efficient manner his instructions from "the backbone" of the Dominion and province? Your letter to him is an insult to his integrity and efficiency and in no small measure to his road superintendent here, and as such should be resented by all good citizens.

W. S. VILLERS.
Sidney, B.C., February 18, 1931.

AUTO INDUSTRY IN CANADA IS GIVEN MORE PROTECTION

EFFECT OF RULING

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 20 (CP).—According to local automobile officials, the 20 per cent discount rate on United States automobiles entering Canada for sale will afford considerable protection to the Canadian industry.

A car selling for $600 in the United States, it was explained, will be increased in price by about $60 in the Canadian market; on a car priced at $1,000, the increase would amount to $77, while a $2,000 car would be increased $362. The price would increase proportionately on higher-priced cars.

IS CHALLENGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Canada's action in reducing the discount allowed on list prices of United States automobiles, thus basing customs charges on increased prices, is regarded here as adding definitely to the height of the tariff wall. The move, it is considered, is a challenge to United States manufacturers to build more factories in Canada.

Several executives of the motor industry here, who have studied the move, consider it tantamount to an actual increase in the tariff on their products to the extent of 15 per cent. They agreed it was highly probable that those companies most affected would erect plants in Canada.

CONSIDER BRANCHES

It was pointed out that four of the largest United States automobile makers—Ford, General Motors, Willys-Overland and Chrysler—have Canadain subsidiaries, and others who wish to compete with them for trade in the Dominion are at a disadvantage without being actually on the ground.

It was stated that the Hudson-Essex, Packard, Studebaker and Pierce-Arrow manufacturers have been studying the situation but have reached no decision.

Exports of United States motor cars and trucks to Canada had a total value of $20,372,000 in 1930.

Spanish Cabinet Makes Favorable Impression

By OLIVER FOX
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MADRID, Feb. 20.—The new Cabinet has made an excellent impression—except, of course, on the jailed Republicans and Socialists. It is a strong combination of eminent men who, although members of what is known as the old school of politics, have the advantage of being veterans in office.

The Marquis of Alhucemas, now Minister of Justice, was Premier when expelled by the coup of General Primo de Rivera. Premier Juan Bautista Aznar was Minister of Marine in 1923. "Give me a gunboat and I will blow Primo out of Barcelona," he is reported to have said then.

Juan Ventosa, Finance Minister, held the same portfolio in 1917. He is a close friend of Francisco Cambo, Spain's remarkable financier, who was prevented by "illness from accepting office.

PUBLIC WORKS MINISTER

Juan de la Cierva, Minister of Public Works, is father of the inventor of the autogiro. He has been cabinet minister many times and is noted for his energy during the Bloody Week in Barcelona in 1909, as a result of which the Anarchist professor, Francisco Ferrer, was shot, causing a furore throughout Europe.

One duke, two marquises, three counts, six lawyers, a general, two admirals, a colonel and a university professor form the mixed team which is entrusted with the responsibility of pulling things straight after the national crisis. Of the eleven ministers, nine have held portfolios before, so that plenty of experience is available.

KING'S CONDUCT CLEVER

The King's conduct has been clever and, without flattery, it may be said that it is due to his manipulation of the political factors that the crisis was conducted to a successful end; but then, King Alfonso, though younger in years than any of his ministers, is in respect of experience the veteran of them all, for since 1902 he has presided over dozens of Cabinets, in which he has watched the wiles—sometimes antics—of ministers, thus gaining unparalleled knowledge that is literally priceless.

King Alfonso really picked the chestnuts out of the fire on this critical occasion. The strongest recommendation in favor of the King is that all the political chiefs, even those turned down, speak highly of the impartial spirit that he demonstrated in his relations with them.

Lass and O'Brien were convicted of holding up a messenger of the Durable Waterproof Company here on September 17 last.

Mr. Justice Jeffrey also handed out a number of other severe sentences as the Criminal Assizes came to a close today.

Martin Bol, convicted of forging a bogus $20 bill, was sentenced to ten years in penitentiary.

Joseph Trache, former pin boy at a local bowling alley, was sentenced to ten years for his part in the armed robbery of his employers on November 20.

GIVEN SEVEN YEARS

Donald Unwin, twenty-two, and Mike Cobus, sixteen, convicted on a charge of shooting with intent, were sentenced to seven years in prison.

William Haines, sixty-one, convicted on a statutory charge, received a sentence of seven years.

THE GABLES HAS CHANGED HANDS

Modern Apartment House on Fort Street Has Been Purchased by Hammond Realty

The Gables, modern apartment house at the corner of Fort Street and Linden Avenue, has just been purchased by the Hammond Realty, 1311 Douglas Street. J. E. Hammond, who confirmed the transaction, was not prepared to say what price was paid for the building, but a sum in the neighborhood of $30,000 is said to have been involved in it.

The building is well known as the site of the home of the late Rev. John Campbell, D.D. The building was completely altered and enlarged by W. J. McArthur and converted into seven apartments which were finished off in the most modern manner. Many new ideas were introduced, including sanitary connection with the incinerator from each apartment. Frigidaires and other conveniences were installed, making the building a most modern one.

Mr. Hammond intends to occupy one of the apartments in the building.

ANTIO POLIQUIN DIES ON GALLOWS

Sherbrooke Resident Pays With His Life for Slaying Wife on December 31, 1929

SHERBROOKE, Que., Feb. 20 (CP).—Paying the penalty for the murder of his young wife, Antio Poliquin, twenty-four, of Sherbrooke, died on the gallows here this morning in the first execution to be carried out in Sherbrooke since 1890. Pale, and with a shaky step, aided by two officers, the condemned man walked to the scaffold escorted by the jail chaplain, Rev. Father Ira Bourassa.

The victim of the murder, which took place on the last day of December, 1929, was Maria Camella Geminaro, twenty-one.

According to evidence at the trial, the couple had not lived together for a year. On New Year's Eve Poliquin asked his wife to call on him. A quarrel developed, during which the woman's throat was cut with a razor. Poliquin was tried here and sentenced in November last year by Mr. Justice C. D. White.

MERGER PLAN IS POPULAR

Leaders of Five Ex-Service Men's Bodies Favor Amalgamation

EACH UNIT WOULD RETAIN AUTONOMY

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 (CP).—Approval of the proposition for amalgamation of the various ex-service men's organizations of this country into one all-embracing association, with each unit retaining its autonomy, was voiced by the heads of five of those groups in statements issued here last night.

For the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, Col. L. R. Lafleche, D.S.O., Dominion president, declares his pleasure at the proposal, saying: "It is perhaps more necessary now than it has ever been since the Great War that steps be taken to bring all together, eliminating any possibility of confusion, friction, or working at cross purposes."

SIMILAR SENTIMENTS

Frank G. J. McDonagh, Dominion president of the Canadian Pensioners' Association, voices similar sentiments, remarking: "Anything which will tend to bring ex-soldiers of Canada together in an organization which will preserve autonomous divisions now existing, will receive our serious consideration."

"Deeply gratifying," is the term employed by Captain E. A. Baker, speaking for the Sir Arthur Pearson Club for Blind Soldiers and Sailors. He expressed himself as "sure that they (the blind soldiers) will receive the news of this most promising movement with the greatest interest and appreciation."

ALWAYS FAVORED UNITY

Asserting that the Amputations Association had always favored unity, "as essential to the best interests of all classes of returned men," Captain Rev. Sydney E. Lambert, Dominion president of that group, says the present move towards union, "opens up a field of unlimited possibilities in this direction."

The statement of Colonel W. C. H. Wood, Dominion president of the A. & N. Veterans, thanks the leaders of other veterans' bodies "for sincere and unselfish comradeship they have shown toward all the suggestions of our association."

Heads of the other associations record their intention of bringing the matter to the notice of their membership.

Major-Domo Dies Of Broken Heart

POTSDAM, Germany, Feb. 20 (AP).—Grief over the sale of the family effects of Cilenicke Castle was believed today to have killed Conrad Mefdel, eighty-four, Prince Freidrich Leopold Hohenzollern's faithful major-domo for fifty-six years.

The ancient servitor was heard recently to say he could not survive the "plebeian treatment" of the princely furnishings, to each piece of which he was deeply attached. Heart-broken at the sale, he took to his bed and today he died.

Order Issues in Eberts-Taylor Suit

Mr. Justice Gregory, in Supreme Court yesterday, issued an order in the Eberts-Taylor suit, which has been in the courts for many years, that the Eberts estate had a half interest in half of the Haddington Island quarries, and a charge on Mr. Taylor's interests in the amount that he received in the purchase price and costs. The order was given at the request of H. B. Robertson, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Eberts, widow of the late Mr. Justice Eberts, who was a partner of L. J. Taylor in the law firm of Eberts & Taylor.

In argument in his own interests Mr. Taylor said that on the reference, it appeared that the amount undisputed was $73,500 received by Mr. Eberts, and that as he (Mr. Taylor) had retired $30,000 of debts of the firm and gave a personal security for a firm debt of $8,000 odd, and he only received about $25,000, but did not intend to go after the estate for the difference due to him, he considered there was little use of proceeding further.

BUILDING WILL COST $400,000

U.S. President May Lay Cornerstone of Legation at Ottawa

By CHARLES LYNCH
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—Ottawans hope that President Hoover will be able to come this year to lay the cornerstone of the projected American Legation Building to be erected opposite the Parliament Buildings at a total cost of about $400,000.

One of the most imposing in the Canadian capital, and with a frontage of 132 feet, the American Legation Building will be a most elaborate design. It will be three stories in height and will contain offices for Colonel Hanford MacNider, United States Minister to Canada; the members of the consular service and the commercial attache. It is expected to be completed this year.

For the last three years, the United States diplomatic and consular representatives have been housed in the building of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, here.

PROPOSE CLEAN START IN PEACE

Noxious Weeds Act Would Tighten Regulations Insuring Weed Control

Revision and consolidation of the Noxious Weeds Act is provided in a bill introduced yesterday by Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, who explained the original act passed in 1911 has been amended from year to year until its provisions have become cumbersome.

The new act has been prepared primarily to enable the Department of Agriculture to meet the situation arising through the development of the Peace River district, which is largely a grain-growing area, at present comparatively free from noxious weeds, the minister stated.

The duties of the various bodies responsible for the control of weeds in the province has been made more definite, while the number of weeds defined as noxious has been increased from twenty-eight to thirty-seven. Danger from the introduction of weed seeds in settlers' effects is guarded against in the changes proposed, and the vendors of hay or fodder, containing mature weed seeds, are placed under obligation to inform the purchasers of such fodder that the seeds are present.

ADMITS STEALING BAG FROM STORE

Herbert Donaldson Is Apprehended by Police After Flight From Premises in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20 (CP).—Captured yesterday afternoon after an exciting chase, Herbert Donaldson, no fixed address, appeared in police court and pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a bag containing $171 from the store of David Spencer Limited. He was remanded to February 24 for sentence.

According to a statement made in court, Donaldson entered the store shortly before the closing hour and, approaching the cashier's desk where money was being turned in by clerks, seized a bag of money and fled.

Employees gave chase and followed the man to the street, where Motorcycle Officer Rex Moore joined in the chase and succeeded in apprehending him.

MADE TRIP AMONG SOUTH SEA ISLANDS AS VACATION TOUR

J. E. Hammond, of the Hammond Realty, has just returned home after a tour of the South Seas. The trip which Mr. Hammond made is one that constitutes a perfect relaxation and covered some fifty days' duration. Traveling by the Empress of Japan on her maiden trip he stopped off at Honolulu, and from there took a smaller vessel making a tour of the South Sea Islands, with frequent stops at points which are outside the general lines of travel. Some 15,000 miles were covered in the course of the voyage which also took in New Zealand. The return trip was made by way of San Francisco.

Twenty-Five Trials At Mainland Assizes

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20 (CP).—Grand and petit jurors were named today by Sheriff W. B. Cochrane for duty at the Spring Assizes, which open at the Vancouver Courthouse on Tuesday, March 3.

Twenty-five cases have already been placed on the Assize list. They will be heard by Mr. Justice Murphy. R. L. Reid, K.C., will act as Crown prosecutor.

Four women were named with fifty-six men for jury duty, four on the list of the petit jury and one on the grand jury list.

URGES EARLY BUILDING OF RAIL OUTLET

Alberta Gov't to Ask for Construction as National Undertaking

SAYS TIME IS RIPE FOR RAILWAY WORK

Motion Requests That Results of Investigations Be Made Public

EDMONTON, Feb. 20.—Declaring that work should be started on a railway outlet from the Peace River country to the Pacific Coast at the earliest possible moment as a national undertaking, a resolution sponsored by Hugh Allen, U.F.A. member for Grande Prairie, was given unanimous endorsation in the Alberta Legislature.

The resolution also called upon the Provincial Government to urge upon the Federal Government and upon the two transcontinental railways, the advisability of making public the result of the investigation of the different routes which might be followed in connecting the Peace River more directly with the Pacific Coast.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE

Supporting his resolution, Mr. Allen set forth that there was every reason why these requests should be made. Four surveys had recently been made with a view to determining the most feasible rail outlet from the Peace River area, and the railways should be willing to make public their findings.

Railway construction could not be undertaken at a more favorable time than the present, both from a labor standpoint and from the point of cost of materials. It would be possible through a project such as that which was urged to turn unemployment into a most useful channel.

SHOULD NOT HESITATE

This province should have no compunction in asking the Dominion to take such steps as indicated, he held, particularly since the E., D. & B.C. was reputedly the only colonization road in Canada to which Federal assistance had not been given, and since settlement of the Peace River country had been stressed by the Canadian Government.

A coast outlet had been estimated to cost anywhere from $13,000,000 to $20,000,000, he added.

L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, supported the resolution, but said he would urge that the outlet decided upon be the shortest and most direct available.

THE LATE MR. H. O. BELL-IRVING

An outstanding citizen of the province, and perhaps the best known of all Vancouverites, has gone to his rest in the death of Mr. H. O. Bell-Irving. It was not alone the fact that he was so prominent in the industrial life of British Columbia that kept him in the public eye, but because of his well-informed and sustained activity in public affairs. His interests, indeed, were of the widest character—politics, social affairs, sports—there was hardly a phase of civic or national life into which, some way or other, he did not enter and always with excellent intent and a salutory effect.

The late Mr. Bell-Irving gave himself wholeheartedly to assist in the development of Vancouver and the province as a whole. He served for many years on the City Council, was identified prominently with the Board of Trade and throughout his public service was still able to devote shrewd attention to the building up of one of the largest salmon canning industries in the province. In the wider sense of patriotic effort Mr. Bell-Irving was a keen imperialist, broad-minded and far-seeing. He embraced the doctrine of Imperial preference three decades ago, when it was little more than a dream, and before Mr. Joseph Chamberlain had launched his campaign. It must have been a matter of very great satisfaction to him that the subject should have been taken up anew and with such vigor by Mr. R. B. Bennett at the late Imperial Conference. The project for the development of the self-sustaining energies of the British Empire was very close to the heart of the late Mr. Bell-Irving.

In his death British Columbia has lost a foremost citizen and Vancouver a pioneer industrialist and civic leader who was held in the highest regard. He will rank among the Old Guard, who faced with courage, optimism and indomitable will power the difficulties which strewed the path of those who saw the great possibilities of the province in the beginnings of what is now Canada's greatest Pacific port. He was a builder always, and one of those who constructed well and surely. The sympathy of all British Columbia will go out to his widow, his sons and daughters, and the roll of grandchildren who survive this pioneer and industrialist.

PUBLICITY FOR CANNED SALMON

The Department of Fisheries at Ottawa is to make an appropriation of $25,000 towards the cost of an advertising campaign to improve the home market for salmon. The producers, in other words the canning companies, are to subscribe another $25,000. It is not exactly an innovation that canned salmon should be advertised at home, but it has never been advertised on a suffiently large scale, and, as a consequence, the home market has not been full exploited. What is now being done should be a part and parcel of a movement to make Canadian goods more popular at home.

The British Columbia pack of the past year was in the vicinity of 2,175,000 cases, which constituted a record for the province. This has been due to an unusually heavy run of pinks and a satisfactory run of sockeyes. The product of this province provides the finest canned salmon in the world. It is eaten too little by our own people. The Dominion Government recognizes this and has devised the scheme of making an appropriation to increase publicity for the product. The canners will find the outcome so satisfactory that the present advertising campaign will be repeated with intensified purpose and with cumulative results in the years to come.

DOMESTIC SERVICE

At times complaints arise of a shortage in domestic servants. The theory is that with more lucrative openings offering for women there is more of a disinclination for domestic drudgery, a disinclination which is perhaps also fostered by the greater variety of amusements now open to those whose pleasures in the past were restricted. Among young people there is this disinclination, but there are many middle-aged women still anxious to do household service. The trouble is that too many households are looking for youthful helps instead of those more experienced and more likely to give faithful service.

The young are not altogether averse to household duties. With economic courses in the schools they are learning the dignity and value of such work. What they balk at is the long hours on duty. It is not so much the heaviness of the work, but the fact that during many periods of leisure they are not able to spend the idle hours as they would. In the store, the office or the factory, there are set hours with every evening free, and Sunday as a holiday as well. Domestic service cannot offer anything so attractive. There is the loneliness, too, for the girl in the one-maid menage. If she is to retain her happiness she must have reserves of cheerfulness, education and intelligence. Loneliness and lack of companionship of the same age often deter young girls from seeking domestic service.

There is, however, a reservoir of help for households that is not sufficiently tapped. At the present time, and in these days of unemployment, there are many middle-aged, or older women who have had considerable training in household duties but who are out of a job, not because the jobs are not available, but because the impression prevails that they have passed their time of usefulness. It is a tragedy that this conception should prevail. It is untrue, because middle-aged domestic workers are the most reliable and are capable of better work than almost any young girl. The Labor Bureau has many on its roll who should be employed and who could find work if there was a different attitude on the part of those requiring domestic help. The theory that the domestic work of the world is done better by the young has been exploded long ago. It is full time that the middle-aged and the older were given a new chance.

THE TITLE, "HONORABLE"

A question that continues to crop up in many quarters is the right use of the title "honorable." It is brought to the fore again by the fact that Mr. G. H. Ferguson, when he resigned the Premiership of Ontario, dropped the prefix. In his case, however, the omission was only for a brief period. On being sworn in as a member of the Canadian Privy Council he again became honorable, and with the right to retain the prefix for life. In the Dominion only Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces and members of the Privy Council enjoy the title honorable for life. It is dropped by provincial cabinet ministers as soon as they go out of office. It is also dropped by the Solicitor-General of the Dominion, members of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Chief Justice of Canada and judges of the Supreme Court and Exchequer Courts, as well as chief justices and judges of the Supreme Courts in the various provinces and the Speakers of the Legislatures. There is a provision whereby Speakers of the Senate and of the House of Commons may be recommended to the Governor-General for permission to retain the title for life after three years in office. This same permission, upon application, is sometimes granted in the cases of chief justices and judges on retirement.

Few, if any, games of modern times have had shorter innings than miniature golf. In the late Summer and Autmun of last year most cities became besprinkled with these baby courses. Comparatively small expenditure was required. In London £150,000 was sunk in indoor miniature golf. The game has died because it lacked variety and the hazards were of the childish character. It only created a flash in the pan of public interest.

The British Labor Party has won the by-election in East Islington. The victory was made possible because it was a four-cornered contest. It is significant that the two Conservative candidates, who ran second and third, polled more votes than the Labor and Liberal candidates who ran first and fourth. The result does not show any increase in the prestige of the Labor Government and it indicates a still further loss of confidence in Liberal policies.

That stormy petrel among the advocates of Free Trade—Mr. R. J. Deachman—is appearing as the chief protagonist of the Consumers' League before the sub-committee of the Cabinet now hearing evidence on the subject of tariff changes. What the Consumers' League of Canada is no one has yet been able to discover. In speaking for it Mr. Deachman assumes the role of the Three Tailors of Tooley Street.

The Chicago educational authorities have forbidden a biography of Catherine the Great to be used in the schools on the ground that it is much "too raw." Obviously a sense of humor prevails in that city where murder is rampant.

The present mild Winter on this continent, at a time when so much unemployment prevails, is an illustration of how the wind is tempered to the shorn lamb.

CANADA IN INDIA

While in command of the Canadian Corps overseas Sir Arthur Currie achieved a well-deserved reputation for the impressive character of his addresses. Some of his formal appeals to the troops on the eve of important crises at the front have their place in the literary history of Canada. That he has not lost his skill in the use of words is clear from the speech which he made in Delhi, India, yesterday, at the unveiling of the Canadian pillar in the new Indian Parliament Buildings. He portrayed this Dominion's attitude towards the Indian people in restrained and yet moving terms. He spoke of ancient India and youthful Canada clasping hands in the great brotherhood of Empire building. He asked his hearers to believe that the concern of Canada for the welfare of the Indian peoples is deep and abiding. Sir Arthur's effort was worthy of Canada and we hope it will prove an inspiration to the new British Indian Dominion now in the making under the direction and leadership of a generous Mother Country.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

CANADA'S FUTURE

Canada is passing through a depression, but it is from no inherent causes. The dumping of Russian grain and the general international dislocation of trade have exacted their heavy toll. But the glory of Canada's future shines like the sun through the mists. Favored among all the nations in the wealth of her soil and the virility of her people, the years ahead are laden with treasure.—London Daily Express.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Sola judex of truth, in endless error hurl'd:
The glory, jest and riddle of the world.
—Pope.

If the times are somewhat out of joint, they were never more interesting than they are at the present time. The number of letters we receive from readers of The Colonist who have been taking notes of current events and asking us to print something about them proves that the people are deeply interested in many of the political and other controversial issues of the day. The undebatable question of who won the war, but which was unprofitably debated, nevertheless, was raised anew with the publication of the memoirs of General Pershing. A reader of The Colonist residing in Saseenos has sent us a copy of The Nation, an extremely radical and intensely anti-monarchical periodical published in New York, in which appears a letter from a correspondent who does not appear to altogether approve of the truths about the war as related by the Commander-in-Chief of Uncle Sam's legions.

* * *

The writer in The Nation rewrites that story told by General Pershing about his conversation with King George in Buckingham Palace. The King and the General were standing together looking out of a window at the gardens of the palace, from which apparently could be seen certain evidences of the work of German bombing Zeppelins. The subject of the conversation was read in The New York Times by the correspondent of The Nation. The Times, like The Colonist, is publishing the memoirs of the General. The Times' version of the conversation, our correspondent at Saseenos suggests, must have been somewhat different from the rendering which appears in The Colonist. At any rate, the New York version aroused the ire of the liberty-loving and God-fearing republican and was the cause of a vitriolic explosion of spleen against kings and despotic institutions.

* * *

The sum of the King's offending was that while looking out of the window, His Majesty pointed to a statue of Queen Victoria and said something which, if printed, might seem incredible to some of the gentle readers of The Colonist. If the King said that—and we should not be surprised if told on the highest authority that he did say it—while he may have shocked many of the extremely puritanical people of the United States, he said something which many of his subjects said thousands of times with greater emphasis. Apparently in one country in the world it is a shocking thing, even when the provocation is great, to utter a swear word, but murder is not a crime even without provocation.

* * *

But there is something more to be said about that alleged conversation: It is not considered quite the thing for a guest in a private house to report for publication even the purport of a private conversation. Even newspaper men, keen as they are for news of interest, hardly ever violate the confidence of their hosts.

* * *

The concluding paragraph in the letter of the correspondent of The Nation is an indication of the attitude of a great multitude of the American people, who still resent the action of the government in becoming involved in the war. The following is the paragraph: "The more General Pershing unravels the inside of our participation in the war, the better understanding we will have of why America sent billions of dollars and millions of men to Europe to save the kings and their grandmothers' statues." Great Britain went into the war because she had signed a document guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium. The United States signed the same document, but she did not honor her signature. The United States did not enter the war until she was forced into it by Germany making war upon her commerce, which was important, and killing a few of her citizens, which probably was not considered so important. Truth is mighty, and must prevail.

We have received a scrap of paper from another correspondent eulogizing our fellow-Canadian Lord Beaverbrook. Well, we admire Lord Beaverbrook, too, although we cherish anything but admiration for his methods. His Lordship "makes no bones" in stating his purposes. He is a wrecker. Surely the political affairs of Great Britain are sufficiently confused already without any outsider stepping in with the declared purpose of adding to the confusion. What would we say in Canada, how would we feel in Canada, if, say, Lloyd George (with his private campaign fund in his grip and his unsurpassed eloquence) were to come over here as a free trade crusader and attempt to oust Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, a moderate protectionist, from the leadership of the Liberal Party, or Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, a protectionist without any qualification, from the leadership of the Conservative Government? We would say with one voice that the invader was an upstart and an undesirable, and we might even demand that he be deported.

* * *

As our space for the day is practically exhausted, we shall print the following letter without comment:

Colquitz, B.C.,
Feb. 15, 1931.

Rear R. B. D.:—As a prophet you are the alligator's adenoids, for what you predicted a year ago has actually come to pass, and we now have a Liberal-Labor Government which will henceforth be known as a coalition government. Be very sure that in future you make no more references to the defunct Labor Government. There is no longer any such animal, for which let us all render thanks. Mr. Lloyd George did great and effective work on the last Coalition Government, which work Mr. Macdonaid insidiously tried to undermine. The whole civilized world will rejoice in the change of leadership, for Mr. Lloyd George will certainly be the leader. You will recall that before the last election Lloyd George guaranteed on the platform to "banish unemployment in a year." One million or so have been added to the ranks of the unemployed since then, so we ought to give him eighteen months to effect a cure. As regards road building, we shall be curious as to who will get the engineer's job. Lloyd George will insist on the very best, of course; but Mr. MacDonald may insist that his old friend Joe Turpin get the job because Joe's great grandfather Richard was a road agent. Squabbles right at the start.

Yours for prosperity,
Walter Foster.

CIVIC TAXATION

Sir,—At the request of several of my friends who are taxpayers, I am writing to ask the council to consider the question of the taxpayers, and to cut the estimates to the limit. Is it up to the taxpayers to stand for all the mistakes the Mayor and aldermen make? Look, for instance, at the Johnson Street bridge, the cold storage and such like.

What is the use of a publicity grant and at the same time trying to tax people out of their homes, and I notice the council has made a grant of $20,000 to the Jubilee Hospital? Why should the property owners be taxed for that?

I notice that Alderman Williams is the only one fighting for the interest of the taxpayers. The people will have to be more careful in their choice at the next election.

ALBERT DASH.
550 Harbinger Avenue, Victoria, B.C., February 17, 1931.

WILLING TO CO-OPERATE

Sir,—Will you please publish the following: "That the Victoria Branch of the Amputations' Association of the Great War, having given consideration to press reports having reference to the amalgamation of ex-service organizations in the Dominion of Canada, declare themselves as willing to co-operate with all other representative organizations of ex-service men in Victoria towards the furtherance of this object."

ALEX. M. HORNE,
Hon. Secy.-Treas, Amputations Association of the Great War, 64 Surrey Block, Victoria, B.C., February 19, 1931.

TAXATION

Sir,—There are two letters in Wednesday's Colonist I would like to reply to. First, there is Mrs. Strachan's. Why blame the Mayor and corporation? The blame rests solely on the voters who endorsed such ventures as the elevator, cold storage, woolen mills, Nurses' Home, Johnson Street Bridge, elaborate schools, etc. These alone in fixed charges may possibly amount to over a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Second, there is Mr. Bailey on unemployment. The chief cause, I firmly believe, is due to excessive demands of trade unions. It has been the cause of introducing automatic machinery to supersede manual labor, and even now, in a lot of instances, I consider wages far too high.

The poor Chinese always gets it in the neck. Can you find any other human being who is a better worker or more persistent? If girls would only study household work instead of aspiring to professions, there are thousands of good jobs waiting to be filled. One thing I do believe would be a good idea is not to allow a married woman whose husband already holds a good job to work in some position where a man could be employed.

The rising generation is too pampered and overeducated in superelaborate surroundings, yet the parents are still demanding more and more, and every project introduced is voted for by a big majority without any thought if it will be a financial success.

WALTER J. DANDRIDGE.
1612 Fell Street, Victoria, B.C., February 18, 1931.

CIVIC TAXATION

Sir,—Mrs. Strachan is to be congratulated upon her excellent letter published in yesterday's Colonist. I agree with her that it is high time the small property owners got together and refused to pay the outrageous tax now charged us in Victoria. I venture to say that nowhere in the British Empire is taxation so unreasonable as in Victoria.

I am a working girl and, due to working short time as times are hard, my income is very small. About two years ago I invested the savings of a lifetime in a small house for my mother and myself. Our home consists of four tiny rooms, so I am debarred from renting a room to help out my income. Out of my small income I pay nearly $90 per year taxes, not counting light and water. This means that about one-fifth of my income goes to the City Hall. As regards the amount spent by the city on our street I doubt if we get $50 per year spent on it. Last Summer its appearance would disgrace a back lot in any small town in British Columbia.

I have been very patient in this matter. I wrote personally about my excessive taxation, and although I furnish the City Hall with $90 per year taxes I did not even receive the courtesy of a reply. His Worship cannot live on less than $4,000 per year. I suggest he try $500 for a change and then perhaps he would sympathize with the under dog. I suggest that all small property owners get together and try to get a re-assesment on all small houses so that we can get a square deal.

A. FAETHING.
415 Powell Street, Victoria, B.C., February 19, 1931.

CIVIC TAXATION

Sir,—The proposed immediate increase of 7 1-2 mills in Victoria taxation is equivalent to 3-4 of 1 per cent, or $7.50 per $1,000. A home taxed on $3,000 would pay an extra tax of $22.50 and one taxed on $5,000 would pay $37.50 more this year, to be followed, we are told, by a loan by-law for still more, which must further increase taxation, camouflage it how they may.

His Worship the Mayor has publicly boasted that he is a fast worker.

I venture to suggest that the present is a critical time in the history of Victoria, requiring ability, experience, integrity, careful deliberation and sacrifice on the part of all, and not alone on the part of the property owner.

To the great credit of Alderman Williams on the council and J. S. McMillan on the School Board, they have shown the way to amelioration.

JOHN DEAN.

WILL VANCOUVER ISLAND GET BRIDGE CONNECTION?

Sir,—Mention has been made of an agreement that this Island would have railway connection, and suggestions made that the removal of Ripple Rock cancels that agreement.

Both railway systems have railway and ferry connections with the Island now, and unless bridge connection is stated in the agreement, no cancellation is called for. But if Ripple Rock and a bridge are mentioned, then I think the people of this Island should get together and demand their bridge, after the menace of Ripple Rock has been removed. It would be no great engineering feat to put a bridge on the rock after it was blasted, in such a way that a bridge pillar would not be a menace to navigation. I think, however, too much stress has been put on a Ripple Rock bridge. In some respects a longer bridge north or south of Seymour Narrows would be a much safer proposition.

To ask compensation for the removal of Ripple Rock is like playing into the hands of interests who do not wish this Island to develop as its location demands. We have a trust belonging to future generations entrusted to our care, and it is our own flesh and blood whom we would rob by surrendering their legitimate claim to Island development and bridge connection. We have no right to sell their birthright for some petty present-day compensation of no future value.

But looking ahead into the future when Canada has come to full maturity as a nation, and has to devise schemes of self-defence, for the millenium seems still a long way off, Vancouver Island and especially the West Coast will be her first line of defence, and to let it be without proper bridge connection with the Mainland would be a greater menace to public safety than Ripple Rock could ever be.

Canada cannot afford to let this Island lie as an undeveloped rock garden in front of her main entrance to the Pacific. There must come, sooner or later, very safe and substantial connection with the Mainland.

And more important at present than a bridge is the need to devise comprehensive schemes of Island development that will assure the settlement along all our seacoasts of a loyal people of our own race, who could be trusted in a time of national danger. The time to lay the foundation for those future loyal defenders is now, by a system of careful selection, for it will take several generations to develop the right kind of people.

But even if we were assured of bridge connections with the Mainland, it would take years to complete the construction of it, and meantime there is a vast territory to the northeast of us calling for an outlet to the Pacific, and we have the grain elevator here ready for that trade. What efforts are we making for this Island to get railway and direct connection with the Peace River territory? A ferry crossing near where our future bridge will be can well serve our purpose for many years, and give us very efficient service for trade development.

An electric railway on a newly-constructed public highway, with electric light and power facilities for the people in that vast undeveloped country would seem to be the most suitable for present day conditions.

But we cannot well expect others to be interested in the development of our Island if the people themselves show no great faith or enthusiasm in its future prosperity.

Unity is strength and if we continue to demand bridge connection with the Mainland we will get it, and a shipping port on the West Coast also, to connect with it.

THE PIONEERING SPIRIT

Sir,—In your issue of February 20 the following statement appeared: "Premier Tolmie has called upon the people of British Columbia for a reassertion of the pioneer spirit that accomplished its end by hard work and without appeal to governments for spoon-feeding. It is the old, old story of how God helps those who help themselves."

About twenty-two years ago I came to Canada to make a living. The ship in which I traveled was filled with a fine type of Britisher, eager to reach the "new land," go anywhere and do anything. With us all, to repeat a few familiar words, it was a case of, "In our Colonies I mean to try, do or die." Yes, the pioneer spirit was very pronounced. Some eighteen years later I cooperated with an immigration society in placing men and boys on farms in the West. I must confess that I noticed a change of spirit in many of them. So many wanted to avoid roughing it. Short days, good pay and a nightly show were the common expectations. Of course there were notable exceptions. This lack of the pioneering spirit was also noticeable in many boys and men born on Canadian farms (high school education?).

I am afraid that we must admit that the pioneer spirit is not so common as it was twenty or thirty years ago. But having said this are we to suppose that the decline of the pioneer spirit is the chief cause of unemployment? We know that it is not, and the governments will have to take an active part in solving it, either by spoon-feeding or some other measures. When one has a steady job or comfortable pension it is so easy to "deplore the lack of the pioneer spirit," or to talk about the "pernicious effects of the dole," etc. But think of the great number of men with wife and children to clothe and feed, who are willing, yes, very willing, to do anything to earn a bit of money. Think of them day by day meeting with "no luck," or trying to carry on with the inadequate assistance rendered by local or provincial "handouts."

Let some of the critics give up their jobs to those who have been out of work for months, and then go out and hunt for a job and see what it feels like to be out of work. It's all very well to utter pious platitudes about "God helps those who help themselves" (perhaps that is why someone broke into my church recently and stole the poor-box), but the way things look it seems as if God must help the poor and needy ones through the various governments, and help in more ways than one.

According to some lectures delivered recently in Seattle it seems evident that the chain stores in the States are a serious menace to the economic life of the working classes and that it is only by special legislation (government assistance) that the situation can be improved. This is but one illustration to show that governments will have to probe more closely than ever, without fear or favor, why there is so much unemployment, and not blame it chiefly on the decline of the pioneer spirit. Also there is need today to impress upon both capital and labor that the overwhelming mass of selfishness under which they are sunk must be removed. This is where true religion comes in, and without it all governmental efforts will fail. In the meantime think of the great army of the unemployed, distressed and discouraged, and let us temper our comments with mercy.

St. Mark's Vicarage, Victoria, B.C., February 20, 1931.

PRUNING

Sir,—If you will allow this, it will perhaps be of assistance to garden owners who are in trouble over this question. With the modern horticulturist, "pruning" is an obsolete term; he considers the word to be synonymous with "trouble." He "thins," "trains" and "sprays." Thinning is done to insure a free circulation of sunshine and air through every part of the subject "thinned." Training is done when a young plant has not the desired natural shape. Sprays are used to control pests. These sprays are the products of chemical laboratories; they are widely tested before being recommended for public use. There is no one spray that can be used for every purpose.

The trend of modern horticulture is toward simple, natural and inexpensive forms; its idea being to assist rather than to improve on nature. It has no place for those worthless relics of a bygone and artificial era such as Winter or Summer pruning or "bobbing," root pruning, digging around the roots, heaping earth or manure around the trunks or stems, bark cutting, scraping or painting, planting on stone or iron at some phase of the moon, or any other similar foolishness with which it is constantly coming in touch.

I would suggest to garden or orchard owners looking for disinterested advice the following gentlemen, who are thoroughly in touch with modern ideas on this subject. The experts of the Provincial Department of Horticulture, Parliament Buildings; Professor Straight, director, Saanichton Experimental Station; Mr. Warren, the city of Victoria park superintendent. My experience with these gentlemen has been that they are willing to assist anyone interested. Of course, these gentlemen are advisers only.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

THE MOTHER SEA

If I were crushed and stricken utterly,
With mighty sorrow burdening my breast,
I should leave home and friends to seek the sea;
The sea could give me rest.

The sea is old, far older than the shore,
For once the world was but a watery waste
With countless voices . . . song and wail and roar . . .
Wave pressing wave in haste.

Of swarming life the sea was mother then,
And when land's thrusting peaks came forth at last
Her teeming myriads climbed to marsh and fen
From out the restless vast.

All life . . . it may be . . . turns in need to her
When tides of hope are ebbing, faint and low,
As to some primal shine the worshipper,
These currents backward flow.

If I were torn and care-wracked utterly,
By grief that would not lessen, would not cease,
I should leave all old loves to seek the sea;
The sea could give me peace.

SAYS HIGHWAYS WILL BE BUILT OF STEEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20 (AP).—Future highways constructed of steel were predicted yesterday by Gordon Hess, Youngstown, Ohio, steel expert, as he outlined before the Western Metal Congress how a wear-ever metal had been discovered.

Buildings, bridges, sidewalks and even works of art to preserve for ever the genius of the age, he said, will be made of steel treated with more than 2,500 alloys that can make it hard, soft or indifferent.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of February 21, 1881)

The San Francisco Chronicle says that with regard to the claim for salvage upon the entire cargo of the Dakota there are conflicting statements. The Dakota was disabled by the breaking of a shaft and was rescued by the Victoria. Goodall, Perkins & Co say that only a portion of the Victoria is owned by them, and therefore the Pacific Coast Steamship Company has a right to demand salvage on the cargo of the Dakota. The terms offered, they say, are much lower than would have been offered by any other vessel, and the insurance companies have readily accepted them. It is customary, Goodall, Perkins & Co. say, for a company to demand salvage on one of their ships when rescued by another. On two such occasions the Pacific Mail Company, it is silenced, demanded salvage, and no sane shipping agent would expect the Pacific Coast Steamship Company to disregard the example of its contemporary. The claims against the Dakota have not all been settled, however, and notwithstanding the advantageous offer of the Victoria, it is possible that an agreement will only be arrived at with the assistance of the courts.

A mast of the ill-fated vessel Lopeta, which sank off the Coast recently, is still plainly visible in a nearly erect position.

Treasure shipment per steamer Victoria yesterday was light, not exceeding $10,000 in all.

WAGE WAR ON TOOTH DECAY

Dr. H. S. Thomson Launches Campaign in City in Luncheon Speech

EDUCATIONAL PLAN IS BEING ADOPTED

Initiating a mouth health campaign in this city as a part of the wider move throughout the province, Dr. Harry S. Thompson, field secretary of the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council addressed nearly one hundred representative citizens at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday at noon. The campaign which is being carried on will start in earnest in Victoria immediately following Easter and continue for one week. Throughout British Columbia the work which is now under way will be concluded by May 1.

It was explained that in the move which is afoot there is no request made for contributions. There is nothing to sell in connection with the scheme, which is one for the prevention of dental trouble rather than for curing mouth affections. It is an educational campaign carried out for the purpose of saving the rising generations from the troubles into which the present has fallen.

WORK WITH YOUNG

In the schools, therefore, a great deal of the work is centred, and in various provinces of the Dominion the work has been carried on.

During the progress of the luncheon addresses, compliments were repeatedly paid to Dr. H. E. Young, Medical Health Officer of the province, for the splendid work which he was doing in connection with this and other preventive work in a health way.

In the absence of Dr. Young, Dr. Richard Felton, Medical Health Officer of the city of Victoria, presided yesterday. He alluded to the fact that the Dominion Government, the Life Assurance Association, the Dominion Red Cross Association, and other bodies, had assisted in the work. He complimented the life assurance companies for what they had done in the way of aiding preventive work.

Dr. Thomson pointed out that the organization he represented was a lay one. It was backed up by prominent and interested men who were not connected with the medical or dental professions. It had its origin in the establishing of the fact that the dental conditions of the race had a material effect upon the health of the community.

The organization went into the provinces only on the invitation of the provinces themselves, which had charge of the health work. In British Columbia the work was being done under Dr. Young with the co-operation of the Minister of Education, also. He said British Columbia stood in a unique position in the matter of health among the provinces of Canada. In Dr. Young they had a man of vision and ideals in the matter of health preservation. Dr. Young believed that the time was coming when there would perhaps be more spent in preventing ill health than in curing.

The medical men had been trail blazers in the matter of health. It was no longer a trail but a paved highway. Men were now being taught how to live.

There had been a lot of time spent in investigating the dental situation with the object in view of combating the evil of dental decay. Investigation had shown that in the Anglo-Saxon nations, 97 per cent of the people were affected; in France the percentage was lower, being about 64 per cent. In Central Europe it was about 44 per cent. In comparison with this was the fact that among the Maoris of New Zealand only 1 per cent were affected, and it did not occur there at all in childhood.

It had been decided that the diet had a lot to do with the situation, and the conclusion seemed to point to the use of fruit and vegetables as a preventive. But then, it was found that in the Arctics, where fruit was not in the diet, the percentage of decay in teeth was only 3 per cent.

RAW FOOD NEEDED

It was then discovered that not only did fruit and vegetables prove their worth, but the taking of these in the natural form, the raw condition, was essential. The contribution of the mineral constituent in the enamel of the teeth had to be looked after. This required the taking of raw food. It was essential, if the food were cooked, that the water used in cooking should be utilized. Prevention of decay must start early, he said. Even the prenatal period should receive attention, and mothers should give attention to the diet used.

The elements which were required to build up teeth were also essential to maintain good teeth. It had been found that, with a proper diet used, no advance in decay of teeth was made. Teeth were made to chew with and people must be taught to use them. In brushing teeth, only the spaces between them required attention, and this was to remove any carbohydrates. If fruit or vegetables were eaten at the finish, brushing would not be necessary.

While mental education was now free and equal for rich and poor, he hoped that the time was coming when education in the matter of health would be equally the same. Victoria, in the campaign in hand, would be a centre, he said.

Mayor Anscomb felt that from an economic standpoint this preventive work was to be welcomed.

Sir Richard Lake suggested that the Junior Red Cross, which did such excellent work, should be interested in this move.

Mrs. Moss, of Cowichan, described what had been done in her district in the matter of preventive work, and spoke in glowing terms of the good work Dr. Young was accomplishing in his departmental work.

ISLAND COAL IS GOOD COAL

WHEN BLACKBERRIES ARE RED—THEY'RE GREEN

ALL you've got to do is to look at a blackberry to see if it's "ripe". Of course, all coal is black, but there are certain grades which are immature or "unripe".

Coal is graded as "good," "bad" or "indifferent" according to its age. The older the coal, the better it is for heating purposes. The "youngest" coal suitable for fuel is known as "lignite". It is so young that it retains the texture of the wood from which it was formed.

True, lignite is a fast, free-burning fuel, yet its average heat content is approximately one-third less than that of bituminous coal, which is more aged, and contains less moisture and a much higher percentage of combustible matter.

Nanaimo-Wellington and Comox Coals are among the highest grades of bituminous coals in the world, because of their high average heat value.

The consumer's best value is Island Coal, because, in addition to its heat content, it costs less than the imported varieties.

Remember, all coal looks alike . . . it's all black . . . but you'll get 30% more heat per dollar from Island Coal.

HOSPITAL BOARD MEETS COUNCIL

Spokesman Says Condition Is Disgrace to Vancouver—Urges Increase in Civic Grant

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20.—The Vancouver General Hospital, operating on expenses "cut to the bone," is a disgrace to the city of Vancouver, Frank J. Burd, chairman of the board of directors, told the City Council when it met this morning as a finance committee to discuss hospital budget requirements of 1931.

The committee referred the matter to the council when it considered the estimates. The hospital board has asked that the city pay off the $75,000 dificit for 1930, make an appropriation of $100,000 for 1931 in addition to the usual 70 cents per patient per day allowance. The city must also pay off $18,000 as interest and $50,000 as principal payment on the special $350,000 hospital loan.

COLLECTIONS DIFFICULT

Even if the city makes the requested grants, Mr. Burd said, he could not guarantee that another deficit would not be found at the end of this year. Difficulty of making collections, due to economic depression, was blamed by the board chairman for the hospital's financial condition. He said that there are more than 300 nonpaying patients in the institution today.

To put the hospital on "easy street," Dr. A. K. Haywood, superintendent, advocated either state health insurance or a capital levy of $1 per head of population.

REPORTS ON LIQUOR PROFITS

FREDERICTON, N.B., Feb. 20.—Net profits on liquor sales in New Brunswick for the year ending October 31, amounted to $1,544,303.08, according to a report tabled in the Provincial House today.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

The 16 ounces thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

BROKER FACES ARREST AGAIN

I. W. C. Solloway to Be Taken by Police to Coast When Released Today

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 20 (CP).—Four months' imprisonment ended, I. W. C. Solloway steps out of Lethbridge jail tomorrow morning a free man as far as the province of Alberta extends, but faced with conspiracy charges in British Columbia and Ontario. Fourteen days were deleted from Solloway's term because of good behavior.

Partner with Harvey Mills in the defunct brokerage concern of Solloway, Mills, Ltd., the broker head received his four months' term when convicted with Mills in Calgary of conspiracy in connection with the operations of his company.

Mills, junior partner, was sentenced to one month in Lethbridge jail.

AWAIT RELEASE

When Mills gained his freedom from prison he was taken to Vancouver to face charges there, then sent to Ontario, where he was remanded to await trial in the British Columbia city. As Solloway leaves prison tomorrow, police officers from the Attorney-General's offices in British Columbia and Ontario will take him into custody.

The senior partner will be rushed to Vancouver to face the court once more—charged with "conspiracy to commit an indictable offence," under the Criminal Code. He will be released on bail, and rushed to Ontario to hear conspiracy charges against him in Toronto. The Ontario court, if it follows the procedure of the Mills case, will allow him freedom on bail.

At the end of April, the two brokerage heads will then appear in the Vancouver court, charged with the same offence, while the Ontario charges await the result of the British Columbia trial.

BRITISH OFFICER KILLED IN CLASH

Followers of "Mad Mullah" Fire on Troops From Ambush in West Africa

SIERRA LEONE, West Africa, Feb. 20 (AP).—Out of the jungle wastes of Cambia today there filtered news of the violent death last Monday of a British lieutenant and four native religious fanatics, including the "Mad Mullah Idara."

A platoon of thirty British soldiers under the command of Lieutenant Holmes went out to get him, but the natives ambushed the small unit and swamped it by sheer weight of numbers.

When Lieut. Holmes was killed, an unidentified sergeant took command, the company reformed in the celebrated "hollow square" and poured volleys into the native band, killing four and wounding others.

Then the British retired and were reinforced by three more platoons sent from the coast. The mullah's disciples dispersed and quiet was restored.

ACCIDENT CAUSES WEEK-END VISIT TO LAST SIX MONTHS

Edwin Leitch, Vancouver youth, came to Victoria on August 31 for the purpose of spending a week-end, but his stay here was six months, it was revealed in the city police court yesterday morning. Leitch hired a motorcycle from the Victoria Checker Taxi Company, Limited, and had his leg broken in a subsequent accident, which confined him to hospital for about six months.

Victoria Checker Taxi Company, Limited, and Roland Hibberd were fined $10 and $5, respectively, in the city police court for letting a motor vehicle for hire without a driver's licence. Eric Hamilton, who appeared for the company, said it had gone out of business and had no assets out of which to pay the fine. A distress order was made by the court.

IS ON WAY FOR MEDICAL HELP

Prominent Chinese of Hongkong Are Here Taking Short Rest

On his way to consult a medical specialist in Baltimore, Wong Kam Fuk, who occupies a most important position in Hongkong, arrived here by the Empress of Japan. He is taking a little rest at the Empress Hotel before starting on his eastward trip. His son, Dr. Sik To Wong, is accompanying his father on the trip.

Mr. Wong, Senior, is a justice of the peace in Hongkong. He also occupies the responsible position of district watchman, representing the Chinese community there in relation to the British authorities. There are only about twenty occupying such positions in Hongkong, which is regarded as a most important post. For forty-four years Mr. Wong has been compradore of the Kowloon wharf in Hongkong. He is the Chinese manager of that wharf. Among the native Chinese he holds a prominent position in the Po Lung Kuk, which is a charitable institution there.

Dr. Wong, his son, is identified as eye specialists with the Tung Wah Hospital, which is the largest in Hongkong. He is a graduate of Guy's Hospital, London, and ranks high among the medical specialists in his department in the East.

Mr. Wong, Senior, is a brother-in-law of Sir Robert Ho Tung.

Six Persons Gravely Ill in South Dakota From Food Poisoning

ELKTON, S.D., Feb. 20 (AP).—Six persons were seriously ill today, while about 160 others were reported recovering from food poisoning suffered when they ate meat sandwiches at an auction sale near here yesterday.

Chemists who analyzed the food served a crowd of 500 on the farm of Ed Ziebarth, said the poisoning may have come from the pork and beef sandwiches which had remained in a stone crock overnight before being served, or else from coffee prepared in a copper boiler.

The most seriously ill are: Albert Ellison, sixty, of Sioux Falls; A. H. Willard, seventy, farmer near Flandrea; Alfred Adell, thirty, of Coleman; Frank Hurley, of Aurora, and Tom Hurney and T. Hurney, of Elkton.

WIDOWS TO GET HALF ESTATE

Proposed Measure Would Prevent Husbands From Willing Away Property From Family

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—Husbands who leave their wives penniless and bequeath their estates to charity or to their mistresses, were denounced in the House of Commons this afternoon by a woman member to such good effect that a bill she advocated to prevent such bequests was carried on its second reading by 149 votes to 26.

The proponent of this measure was Miss Eleanor Rathbone, Independent member for the combined English universities.

The bill provides that the widow is entitled to one-half of the net estate if there are no surviving children, or one-third of the income therefrom if there is a surviving child or children, the maximum income allowed being £2,500 (about $12,500) in case of a widow and £300 (about $1,500) for each minor child.

At present there is nothing in English law to prevent a father from disinheriting both his wife and children.

The measure, known as the Family Maintenance Bill, applied equally to married women testators. It was referred to a joint committee of both Houses, since a similar bill is pending in the Lords.

Muscular-Rheumatic Aches and Pains

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy; jars and tubes.

MUSTEROLE
BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

Hemorrhoids

Or piles are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is a serious matter to have piles and one person in four has them at one time or another. The annoyance and distress is great. It is difficult to obtain lasting relief. So much so that a surgical operation may be considered necessary. That is unless your physician is familiar with Dr. Chase's Ointment for many doctors recommend this treatment to their patients.

For nearly half a century Dr. Chase's Ointment has been the never failing relief for itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It is now very generally known by the medical profession, and the public generally, as the standard treatment for this torturing ailment.

Ask your friends about Dr. Chase's Ointment for "users are boosters" in this case. Relief comes quickly and you can obtain the ointment at any drug store.

He stopped off at Winnipeg, where he conferred with Western officials and others, and addressed the Board of Trade on the subject of the farming situation in the Prairie Provinces. During his address he quoted figures indicating there was an improvement in the production of livestock on the farms of late.

Capital City Had Record Sunshine During Last Month

In spite of the fact that January on the Pacific Coast was considered an unusually wet month, Victoria maintained its enviable reputation of the City of Sunshine, according to the monthly weather map issued by the Meteorological Service of the Dominion of Canada.

In January Victoria had a total of fifty-four hours of bright sunshine, the record of twenty-four other points in British Columbia. Victoria also had the highest low temperature in the province with 37 degrees. Precipitation in Victoria in January was comparatively low with 4.7 inches, Vancouver had 11.2 inches, Port Alberni was highest with 18.2 inches.

Under the heading of general remarks, the Service bulletin says: "On the Coast rain was of almost daily occurrence. On Vancouver Island, except the extreme south, precipitation was 15 to 60 per cent in excess of normal. At the mouth of the Fraser the excess was 30 to 35 per cent. Higher upstream there was a deficiency of 30 per cent. Generally in the Interior the deficiency was 30 to 70 per cent. Temperatures were generally high for the season and several points reported the warmest January on record. The excess ranged from 5 degrees in South Vancouver Island to 25 degrees in the Northern Interior. Very little snow fell, even on Interior mountains."

Australia Proposes to Pay Bonus of 12 Cents a Bushel On All This Year's Wheat

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—Following are some of the outstanding features of the monthly crop report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics: Total Canadian exports of wheat for the six-month period ending January 31 were 156,125,050 bushels, as compared with 96,897,740 bushels for the same period a year ago.

Wheat exports from Vancouver were nearly 20,000,000 bushels higher from August 1 to February 11 than for the same period a year ago.

BOUGHT FROM RUSSIA

A total of 35,192,513 bushels of wheat was imported into the United Kingdom from Soviet Russia in 1930.

Italy is an active buyer of wheat this season, with prospects of imports doubling those of last season, which were 43,000,000 bushels. Supplies of Soviet wheat arriving at Italian ports from July to December, 1930, inclusive, totaled 15,650,973 bushels.

Imports into Greece and Belgium are heavier this year than last.

Sowings of Winter grains in Soviet Russia are 5,000,000 acres greater than last year. Soviet periodicals contain new plans for mechanization before the Spring sowings, with generous distribution of imported seed. Increase in crop acreage planned for 1931 is about equal to the total crop acreage of Western Canada.

AUSTRALIAN BONUS

Australia proposes to float a domestic loan of £6,000,000 ($30,000,000) to provide a bounty of 12 cents a bushel on all this season's wheat for both domestic and export requirements. Latest crop estimate, 185,000,000 bushels; wheat shipped to date, 40,000,000 bushels, leaving 105,000,000 bushels for export.

Both export and domestic business in Australia has been practically at a standstill during the last three weeks, due to uncertainty whether the Commonwealth Bank will continue to refuse to advance more than the 61 cents of the Government's 73 cents a bushel guarantee on exported wheat.

The second forecast of the Argentine Minister of Agriculture places the wheat crop at 238,834,000 bushels, compared with the first forecast of 271,404,000—a reduction of 32,570,000 bushels. The exportable surplus is estimated, as at February 15, at 146,754,280 bushels.

Czechoslovakia now has 350 football fields, and 1,345 tennis courts.

GOVERNOR DENIES RESPITE REQUEST

Mrs. Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague Will Die in Electric Chair on Monday Morning

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP).—Governor Pinchot today declined to grant the request of Percy Allen Rose, Johnstown attorney, for a respite for Mrs. Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague, who are under sentence to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary next Monday morning.

Governor Pinchot said he regretted his inability to grant Rose's request, but asserted he could not see his way clear to issue a respite to the couple condemned to die for the slaying of Corporal W. Brady Paul, of the State Highway motor patrol, in Lawrence County on December 27, 1929.

Rose requested the respite that he might go to a pawn shop in Fort Worth, Texas in an effort to find the gun believed to have been carried by the woman during the battle in which Corporal W. Brady Paul was slain.

SOLARIUM APPEAL FOR MORE LINEN

The annual linen shower for the Queen Alexandra Solarium, conducted by the Women's Auxiliary under Mrs. William Peden's convenership, will close today, and as the response up to the present has fallen slightly short of expectations, it is hoped that friends will remember to add something to the linen baskets which will be found in the leading stores. The most urgent requirements in the Solarium at the present time are grey flannelette blankets, standard small bed size, but cot sheets, drawsheets, pillowslips, towels and other linen will also be much appreciated.

SAANICH FORCE TO COST LESS

Reeve Crouch Enlightens Deputation Regarding Increase of Salaries

Saanich police will cost the municipality six hundred dollars less this year than in 1930, estimates struck at a meeting of the police commission last night disclosed. The total estimated cost of the force this year will be $12,900 as opposed to $13,500 last year.

A deputation composed of Messrs. Lynn, Lambrick and Sergeant waited on the commission, as representing the Central Saanich Ratepayers' Association, with the request that the commission would see fit to rescind its decision with regard to any increase of salaries for members of the force.

Reeve William Crouch, presiding over the commission, explained the fact that actually only one man had had any increase of salary, having been promoted to the rank of sergeant after fourteen years' service at an increase in pay of $5 a month.

All other members of the force, Reeve Crouch stated, were being paid at the rate which had obtained for many years, after their probation period had expired. The chief's salary had also remained unchanged.

The commission regretted that it could not see its way to rescinding its decision, and the deputation appeared satisfied with the facts of the case as explained by the reeve.

FIRST ASPARAGUS TO ARRIVE SOON

Pacific Coast Wholesalers Now Handling Florida Crop—Green Peas on the Market

High quality asparagus from California is now on sale in Seattle and other Pacific Coast wholesale houses. The first to arrive in Victoria is due during next week. Although the price is fairly high, there is a good demand for it because of its excellent quality.

Green peas are now obtainable from local wholesalers, having made their first appearance early in the week.

A carload of California artichokes arrived at one of the wholesale houses yesterday morning and are selling well among the retailers.

The first of the Florida strawberries was received in Vancouver yesterday morning. Victoria's share will be shipped shortly from the Atlantic seaboard and should arrive within the next week and a half.

British Columbia rhubarb is moving well on the wholesale row just now and the local crop is expected to appear in about two weeks. The supply this year is abundant, and some fine quality fruit has been produced.

WATER

(Health Service of the Canadian Medical Association)

Water is usually so readily obtained that we do not think much about it. It is only when we are thirsty and there is no water available that we begin to appreciate what water means to us.

About 70 per cent of the weight of our bodies is water. It is not possible to state just how much water we should use, but it is evident that we require a considerable amount. The amount required varies depending upon the temperature and humidity of the air and upon the type of work which each person is engaged. On a hot Summer day, a man working out of doors gets rid of a considerable amount of water because he perspires freely and the water is evaporated from the skin. Such a man needs to drink water freely and frequently in order to replace that which is lost. On the other hand, little water is required by the person who sits quietly in a moderately-heated room, and does not perspire.

Most people do not drink water in sufficient quantities. It is probably true that many persons would feel better and would actually be healthier if they were to increase the amount of water used. This can be done by developing the habit of drinking a glass or two of water before breakfast and between meals.

It is not sufficient to rely upon a sense of thirst. Thirst should be quenched. If, however, as is the case with most of us, we have not attended to the natural demand for water unless it was so pressing as to make us uncomfortable, our sense of thirst becomes so blunted as not to be a safe guide with regard to our needs for water.

There is no objection to a moderate use of water with meals, providing that a drink is not taken while there is food in the mouth. Water or other beverages must never be used to wash down food.

Excess is never desirable, and if six glasses of water are good, it does not follow that twelve are twice as good. There are certain conditions when the excessive use of water may be definitely harmful.

Our bodies require water for the regulation of their heat through perspiration. Water is also needed to secure regular and complete elimination of body wastes.

A daily water-drinking routine should be established—a glass or two before breakfast and between meals. There is no reason why this routine could not be followed. It is one of the simple rules of healthy living, the practise of which entails no expenditure of money.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

NEW FRUIT IN AUSTARLIA

Resembling an orange flattened at each side like a tangerine and having a taste distinctly tangerine with the tang of the grapefruit, a new fruit has appeared in New South Wales at a Government farm at Victoria. It was produced by cross-pollenization of the tangerine and the grapefruit. It has not been named and there is only one tree. It is estimated that it will take seven years to produce a crop sufficient to supply the market.

Consideration of the representations made was promised.

Solarium Officers Elected—W. B. Lanigan was elected president of the Queen Alexandra Solarium board of directors on Thursday at the first regular meeting of the organization held since the annual meeting last week. Other officers were elected as follows: Vice-president, J. W. Hudson; honorary treasurer, Charles Williams; secretary, Mrs. Glossor. Dr. Wace, medical superintendent at the Solarium, reported forty-four children in the institution at the present time, five in hospital for special surgical treatment, and twelve on the waiting list.

A contractor borrowed a small and badly worn car from a friend for an emergency trip. The owner apologized for the machine's bad condition.

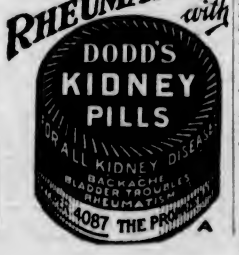

"Oh, that's all right," said the borrower. "I can drive anything that has four wheels." And, calling to an employee to accompany him, he was off.

A little way down the road the contractor noticed the absence of a key to the ignition switch. Later he discovered that the emergency brake did not work. After another mile he found himself rolling down a smooth, level road toward a bridge, and a second glance showed a sixty-yard gap between the bridge and the bank.

Viciously he jammed on the foot-brake only to find that it would not work. Fifty yards from the bridge he tried to reverse, but it was stuck and would not budge.

Turning to his companion, he remarked, cheerfully: "Well, here's hoping the gas gives out."

PROTECTION IS ASKED ON MEAT

Heavy Imports of Mutton Into Canada Act to Detriment of B.C. Industry

Pointing to Canadian imports of 4,401,258 pounds of mutton from Australia and other countries in 1929, and an increase to 3,685,581 pounds in six months last year, delegates of the Farmers' Advisory Board yesterday asked the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature to recommend Federal action to increase tariff protection on mutton. Beef imports were given as 5,135,412 pounds in 1929, and 1,902,686 pounds in six months last year, after added duty.

A tariff of six cents against imports from the United States had virtually shut off the influx from that country, it was shown, but the present tax on Australian mutton did not afford much protection to British Columbia livestock men, who could not compete with vast imports from Australian points under the existing tariff level. The committee favored representations on the matter. Dairy imports were touched on in prior representations.

The committee approved of a resolution of the Farmers' Advisory Board suggesting that reverted lands be placed on the market by the Province, and advertised for sale.

Just Roamin' Around

BY TWO ROVERS

Rover was romping around, unleashed, on a friend's lawn, and we were enjoying his doggie antics.

My friend, the owner of the superb garden we were visiting, looked on approvingly. "How he enjoys it, doesn't he?" he said. "After all, dogs don't have nearly as much to enjoy as we do, so we can't afford to preclude a roll on green grass, can we? I love dogs, you see, and I hope you Two Rovers will have something to say on the vexed question of "Leashes," soon."

"Tomorrow," said I. "Just now I have been seeking the views of lovers of dogs, who have one, at least; lovers of dogs, who have none—for several reasons; haters of dogs, who, of course, wouldn't have one at any price; and those who have duties to perform, rightly or wrongly; and those who think they have duties to perforce force into action. Also, I am getting the views of those who know of other by-laws that affect the parks that are not, and we hope never will be, enforced. Still they exist; and, if one by-law is to be strictly adhered to, then the others must also be enforced."

"You spoke of dogs not having the benefit of some of our forms of enjoyment, and your lovely flowerbeds make me think of one," said I.

"You mean the joy of perfumes, I presume?" he asked.

"Yes," said I, "of all the five senses, that of a keen appreciation of scents, or odors of flowers, is the must subtle and difficult to define, as it is the least amenable to our control. That's the joy I refer to. The animals never can realize the rapture of a rose or the luxuriousness of a lily."

We humans all love sweet perfumes, and most of us have long ago selected our favorites. Sweet Lavender brings back sweet memories of a dear old Mother's laces; Roses recall to our minds some tender, heart romance, a bridal bouquet, perhaps, or a tell-tale blush that gave us the long-hoped-for affirmative, which doubles a man's responsibilities and his happiness at one and the same time; the sight of a faded letter in a dear one's handwriting oft chides one for the forgetfulness of a friend or brings home to us the rapid pen-strokes of the great Timekeeper; a well-remembered melody, or the tune of an old familiar song, can indeed stir up the heart strings; the delicate flavor or aroma of a particular fruit or wine will help to recall an episode of other days; and the touch of a beloved hand, or a lock of hair can arouse in us the tenderest of gentle memories; but, all together, these senses cannot equal the potent, subtle fragrance of a foom, a drawer, or a kerchief for raising haunting but hidden memories. Even an old glove, or withered rose leaves, or faded, pressed wild flowers, can call up the most vivid associations to remembrance from the ocean-deep of a buried or half-forgotten past.

So it seems to two old Rovers that every garden and every park should devote a special space to flowers and shrubs, whose fragrance is well known and loved by us all.

Plant growth, with odorous leaves, blossoms with exquisite scent, might well form a section in our parks and all our other beauty spots. Then might Victoria become known as the City of Sweet Scents; throughout the world.

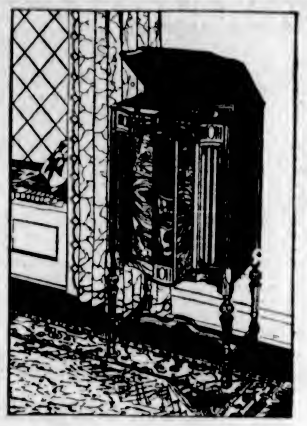

And Rover says, "It might also be described as a City of Good Sense, too."

Lavender, Ladslove, Allspice, Thyme, Sage and Marjoram, Balm sublime,
Sweet Bay, Mint and Myrtle, too,
Cinnamon, Patchouli, Wormwood, Rue,
Birch Bark, Tuberose, Apricot,
Musk, Sweet Briar, Bergamot,
Violet, Jessamine, Tansy, Pink,
Near a small pond's grassy brink,
Syringa, Rosemary, Gillyflower,
Sweet in sunshine or in shower,
All make remembrance long to live,
And Joy to our five senses give.
Here parle of bees and perfumes sweet
They hold our memories far too fleet;
Brought home again to heart and eye,
They banish tear and conquer sigh.

Few people seem to be aware that Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, had for a godfather the son of George Stephenson, the inventor of railway engines.

This fact, Lord Baden-Powell pointed out recently, no doubt accounted for his own great passion for engines, concerning which he also told an amusing little tale. During his army service in Bombay, he said, he bribed the driver of an engine to let him drive it down hill.

"Half way down," he continued, "the alarm bell rang furiously. It was the Colonel who thought the train was going too fast. But he did not know that I was driving, or I should not have remained in the army another day!"

German diplomats are reported to be shaking their heads over the recent official report showing that they are poorer paid than those of other countries. The German Ambassador at Washington gets a salary of only $31,500 a year, while the British Ambassador receives $100,000. The German Ambassadors in London and Madrid get less than $3,000 annually. The highest paid German diplomat is the Minister in Buenos Aires, Argentina, whose salary is $31,750.

SCOTCH MUSIC GIVEN CHEERS

Burns Club Enthusiastic Over Performance of J. Hinton and J. Galloway

Before one of the most enthusiastic and appreciative audiences which has ever assembled in Victoria, Joseph Hinton, assisted by James Galloway, yesterday evening, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, delighted members of the Burns Club with a lecture on Scottish folk music. Besides singing, Mr. Hinton gave several delightful renderings on the piano and organ, while Mr. Galloway's remarkably fine voice was used with good effect, perhaps the most appreciated numbers being "The Blue Bonnets" and "The Rowan Tree," while "O Caledonia, Stern and Wild," composed by Mr. Hinton and only recently published, was loudly applauded.

Mr. Hinton was introduced by John Hosie, president of the club, and, at the conclusion of the lecture, the audience testified its appreciation by three hearty Scottish cheers.

Scottish folk tunes, Mr. Hinton explained, had come down to us by means of oral tradition. He defined folk music as national songs which had been so well beloved by the people that they had been preserved through the centuries.

PENTATONIC SCALE

The pentatonic scale, which had found favor in Scotland at the close of the fifteenth century, was the basis of this type of Scottish music and was responsible for its haunting sweetness.

In passing, Mr. Hinton noted that the hymns used at the time of the Reformation had been adapted from popular melodies. While some folk music had undoubtedly had a more august origin there was every indication that by far the greater majority had come from the people.

The place of the wandering minstrel as a factor in the composition of folk music, was dealt with by Mr. Hinton. These minstrels, he said, were generally genuine poets as well as capable musicians.

"These popular Scottish songs," he pointed out, "disdain the use of flowery and high flown sentiments. They make straight for their objective just as the Scottish clans were wont to do on the field of battle.

DEPLORES JAZZ

The folk music of Scotland, went on the speaker, might be divided into two distinct periods, the first of these embracing those melodies which had survived decimation by war and pestilence, while the second type of song had been written by more modern poets, such as Robert Burns.

The dance tunes which had been handed down by Scottish tradition were full of vivacity, point and vigor. Mr. Hinton deplored the modern tendency to "jazz." "Nowadays," he said, "youth seems content to dawdle through the fox trot to the barbaric accompaniment of darkest Africa.

"The spirit of hospitality and good fellowship which is embodied in these beautiful and time-honored songs," concluded the speaker, "should appeal to all those who honor healthy sentiment and love melody."

Novelty Handkerchiefs Match New Pochettes

Handkerchiefs are now becoming very decorative, says an article in The London Times. In the evening wisps of chiffon and tulle are secured to jeweled bracelets and worn fluttering from the wrist. The shade matches the gown. These filmy things are picot-edged, or finished with a wide hem of self-toned voile. Other fragile varieties are made of silky muslin and edged with a band of net. Handkerchiefs of softest mull are embroidered in white thread, and nearly the whole of the surface is covered with minute flowers, birds and fruits, delicate festoons of leaves and knots of ribbon.

EMBROIDERED "HANKIES"

Daytime handkerchiefs are also beautifully hand-worked. Fine white linen is decorated with small applied flowers in one corner, cut from the same material in self-color. Occasionally a white linen handkerchief may have a border of small colored linen flowers cut out and applied with fine stitchery. Organdie handkerchiefs are similarly ornamented.

Irish linen is always an acceptable material because of its hard-wearing properties, and so many fast dyes in delicate and vivid tints have now been mixed that it is possible to obtain handkerchiefs to match every kind of dress. These handkerchiefs usually are finished by hand-drawn thread work—lines of hemstitching decorating the borders. Or they may have initials or a monogram embroidered within a circle, square or diamond in one corner. Often the initial is embroidered and its circle of surrounding material then cut away, leaving the initial stretched across the cavity.

Mull is a material little known, but it is most soft and kind to the skin and looks much more delicate than cambric or linen and is far more absorbent. The Irish sheer mull is a delightful fabric.

POCHETTE MATCHES

One of the newest ideas is to have pochette and handkerchief made of the same material, generally silk or crepe de Chine in color with a white spot design. The handkerchief is pulled through a flap of the handbag. Hand-block prints are also used for this purpose. Waterproof pochettes for bathing have been made of bright-colored sateen with a slot at the back through which the belt of the swimming suit is slipped. The flap is secured by a patent device of rolled rubber to keep the water out.

The old fashion of hand-painting materials has been revived and there are many examples of it on handkerchiefs, organdie and crepe de Chine being the best fabrics for this work. Waterproof paints and mediums can be obtained for the purpose. Crepe de Chine scarves and handkerchiefs to match are decorated with Batik work, or designs hand-printed from wooden blocks. Modernist designs and geometric forms are usual.

City Plans for New Airport Site Near Completion

Following a sitting in camera of the Saanich Council on Thursday evening, publication was given that the council had been informed that the City Council would seek tax exemption for 120 acres of land at Gordon Head, on which it had taken option with a view to making a permanent municipal airport.

A plan of the proposed airport site is said to have been laid before the Saanich councillors.

It has been known for some time that the city authorities were working on plans to secure a permanent airport, following the refusal of air officials to accept the Lansdowne site as a permanent landing field, but were waiting until the completion of negotiations before making the plans public. The land in question is regarded as ideal for the purpose in view.

French Indo-China now has 1,485 miles of railroads open to the public.

HOSPITAL NOTES SEVERAL GIFTS

Jubilee Directors Express Hearty Appreciation of Various Generous Donations

More than the usual number of donations were acknowledged by the Jubilee Hospital board of directors at its regular monthly meeting last night. Among these was a donation of $10 from Mrs. William Atkins, a very old friend of the hospital, in memory of her late husband; a donaitn of $150 from the B.C. Cement Company, this being towards the equipment of the science laboratory in the nurses' training school; and a gift of $800 from the Women's Auxiliary, this to go toward the renovation and decoration of the ward, recently renovated, which is to be occupied by the small patients at the Jubilee. The board expressed its gratitude for these various gifts.

A donation which came in unusually interesting form consisted of twelve cheques of $5 each, one payable each month for a year. The Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., was heartily thanked for its generous donation of $1,000 for the furnishing of the pavilion sunroom, and grateful appreciation was also expressed for their kind assistance at the recent opening of the pavilion, the Kiwanis Club likewise being the subject of a motion of cordial thanks for their $2,000 gift toward the construction of the new T.B. pavilion.

A special resolution entered in the minutes at the request of the directors referred to the liberal bequest made to the hospital by the late David Doig, whose practical foresight of the hospital requirements had made possible many of the important additions recently made in the Jubilee equipment.

The January reports showed the number of hospital days in that month to have been 6,966, the average number of patients per diem being 225, and the cost per diem $3.63. Including laboratory and X-raw, this last figure was increased to $3.96.

The report of the twenty-four-hour test of the new boiler and automatic stoker was made by A. C. R. Yuill, and was quite satisfactory, the installation, according to the report, exceeding all expectations. Mr. Yuill recommended that an analysis be made of each carload of coal purchased, and E. Tomlin very kindly offered to have this done free of all expense to the hospital.

FULL HOUSE ENJOYS PLAY

Victoria College Students Give Excellent Performance of "Yellow Sands"

HENRY WORTHINGTON IN HUMOROUS ROLE

Playing to a packed house, the Victoria College students presented their seventh annual play, Eden Philpott's three-act comedy, "Yellow Sands," at the High School auditorium last night.

The scene is laid in the Devonshire village of Yellow Sands, and tells the story of an aged maid, who is worth a good deal of money. Her relatives, realizing the fact that she is near her deathbed, confer false kindness upon her in the hope that they will be remembered in her will.

Of all her relatives there is but one who speaks his true mind, and it is to him that the greatest part of the inheritance is left. The part of this young youth, who proclaims himself an anarchist, is taken in most pleasing manner by Cyril Chave. Richard Varwell, brother to the old maid, is portrayed by Henry Worthington, who kept the audience in fits of laughter in many of his scenes. The parts were all well taken and the well-balanced cast did justice to what is considered one of the best of the humorous works of the author. The part of the old lady was played by Peggy Parsons, a seventeen-year-old student of the college, in such a manner that few people of the audience could realize her true age.

The play is ably directed by Major L. Bullock-Webster.

THE CAST

Those taking part in the play are: Richard Varwell, Henry Worthington; Emma Major, Helen Harris; Arthur Varwell, Gordon Thomson; Joe Varwell, Cyril Chave; Mr. Baslow, Donald Purves; Thomas Major, George Warnock; Lydia Blake, Muriel Davenport; Mary Varwell, Bernice Chapman; Jennifer Varwell, Peggy Parsons; Minnie Masters, Margaret Purves; Nelly Masters, Gertrude Straight.

E. B. Christopher is the stage manager and is ably assisted by Len Bapty, Sam Warnock, Jerry Gwyn, Misses Maxine Ewart and Isabell Burton.

Others in charge of the stage work and costumes include: Rowland Horsey, electrician; Misses Isabell Burton, Velma Anderson, Eleanor Muirhead and Maxine Ewart, costumes; Misses Mary Leith and Margaret Little, properties; Alex Marling and Kenneth Ross, ticket sale; J. A. Petch, Misses Maxine Ewart, Yvonne de Bretigny, Pat Hammon, Walton and Burton, publicity; Miss Peace Cornwall, prompter.

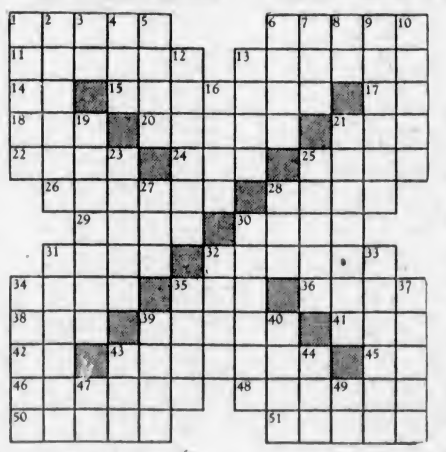

The executive of the club consists of Miss H. R. Humphrey, honorary president; E. B. Christopher, president; J. A. Petch, secretary; Miss B. Valo, treasurer.

During the intermission music was rendered by Misses Mary Philip and Olive Heale and Reginald Cooper.

A second performance will be given tonight at 8 o'clock.

A soldier was crossing the barracks square with a pail in which he was going to get some water. An officer, passing at the same time, noticed he was wearing a disreputable-looking pair of trousers. "Where are you goin?" "To get some water." "What! In those trousers?" "No, sir. In the pail!"

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

ASSESSMENT OF FARM LANDS NOT REDUCED

Unless otherwise ordered by the Legislature or the courts, there will be no reduction in the assessment of farm lands in Saanich. The Court of Revision, consisting of the reeve and all councillors, has decided to act upon the advice of E. L. Tait, municipal solicitor, and will maintain the valuations which are at present placed on farm property.

Mr. Tait gave his opinion that the amendment to the Municipal Act relating to the assessment of parcels of land of five or more acres was too vague in character, and he advised that assistance should be sought from the House.

AID ORGAN FUND WITH CONCERT

Jessie Smith and Oliver Campbell Give Programme at First United Church

A two-piano recital is an unusual event on the public concert platform here, and this fact, combined with the admirable selection of music chosen for the occasion, accounted for the majority of those who were present at the concert given at the First United Church last night when the two principal performers were Jessie Smith, A.T.C.M., and Olive Campbell, A.T.C.M., L.Mus.

These two brilliant executants, whose work had a very similar crystaline quality which made it admirably suited to duet playing, provided the major part of the programme, but variety of interest was added in the vocal groups by F. J. Mitchell, an unusually fine baritone, and Billie Inglis, the boy soprano who for the last three or four years has been charming Victoria audiences. It made a programme of unusual interest.

The crystal clarity of the pianists' work, already commented on, lent itself admirably to the Mozart Sonata with which the ladies opened the programme. This was very charming in its clear perfection. The same qualities in their style were delightful in the two Missa pastorales which opened their second group, bright and dainty numbers which showed dexterous treatment. Very charming was the Berlios "Valse de Sylphes," also in the same group; and the lively and spirited Saint-Saens' Minuet and Gavotte of the succeeding group was a particular favorite, its rhythms being accented with a sensitive similarity by the two pianists. Again in the concluding "Suite Gothique," by Boellman, they had two movements especially suited to their style, the Menuet and Toccata.

Singular Accident Occurs at Tofino

TOFINO, Feb. 20.—Thomas Hulbert, who operates a crab-fishing plant at this place, will be laid up for several weeks with a broken leg. While sitting at Wingan's Wharf, one of his legs "went to sleep," and on his suddenly arising it doubled under him and precipitated him to the floor of the dock with the result that he fractured the fibula bone in his right leg.

Dr. Dickson, the resident physician, being himself invalided with an injured leg, could not attend to him, so he was taken to the Port Alberni hospital on the Tofino lifeboat, by special permission.

"Your son has a great thirst for knowledge. Where did he get it?"

Mother—"He gets the knowledge from me and the thirst from his father."

EGG PRICES LOW; HENS MARKETED

Poultrymen Are Killing Off Birds Wholesale, Dominion Official Reports

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—No cause exists for the near panic apparent at present in the Dominion's egg markets, according to F. C. Elford, Dominion poultry husbandman under the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Elford today called attention to the fact that while egg production is heavy just now, at an unusual time, it is likely that during the usual storage season production will decline sharply.

As Mr. Elford sees it, egg production this Winter has been quite similar to production under experimental tests with artificial lights, which have been carried out under his supervision. These tests show the production limit of the bird is reached much earlier in the season than under normal conditions. This means that with heavy production so general during December, January and February a drastic decline in production may be looked for during April, May and June.

"I have never known anything like the wholesale slaughter of laying birds that has taken place at the present time," he added. "Many commercial poultrymen are finding Leghorns selling at 27 cents a pound dressed, a better money proposition to them than their value as layers with eggs at the present prices. Many have stated they are killing off all the birds except breeding stock, and the nucleus of the laying flock. This wholesale slaughter of birds will have a marked effect on the egg market."

Major Nicholson's Appointment Welcome

TOFINO, Feb. 20.—Major George Nicholson, of Clayoquot, returned home on the last steamer after a ten days' absence, during which he attended the Conservative party convention at Parksville, and was appointed to the position of general organizer for the West Coast. The genial major is a capable man, who has the best interests of the West Coast at heart, and his appointment will doubtless prove satisfactory to everybody concerned in its welfare.

An elderly lady was introduced to an actor. "Oh, Mr. Blank," she said, "I suppose you actors hate boos more than anything else."

"Well madam," replied the celebrity, "it rather depends on how you spell it."

Lincoln was once addressing a meeting of editors. Not being an editor, he said, he felt like the ugly man riding through a wood, who met a woman, also on horseback. She stopped and said:

"Well, for land sake, you are the homeliest man I ever saw."

"Yes, madam, but I can't help it," he said.

"No, I suppose not," she observed, "but you might stay at home."

Burgess Bedtime Stories

The Lemming Folk

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

There's nothing strange except to you;
There's nothing that is really new.
—Old Mother Nature.

Jumper the Hare bore Whitey the Snowy Owl no ill will for trying to catch him, and in his turn, Whitey bore Jumper no ill will for cheating him out of a dinner by escaping in a bramble tangle. The little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows are like that. It is all right for one to catch another for dinner, if he can, and it is equally all right for one to escape if he can. In neither case are there any hard feelings. It is all part of daily life. So it was that Jumper, having escaped from Whitey, was enjoying a talk with the latter, who sat on a stump just outside the bramble tangle.

"You mentioned the fact that up in the Far North where you come from you live quite largely on Lemmings. What are Lemmings?" said Jumper.

Whitey snapped his bill, and it had a hungry sound. "They are about the best eating I know of," replied Whitey, and snapped his bill again.

"You know what I mean," retorted Jumper a bit impatiently. "Do they wear fur or feathers? Are they animals or birds?"

Whitey looked very hard at Jumper. "Are you joking?" he demanded.

Jumper shook his head. "Why should I be joking?" he asked in his turn.

"I didn't suppose there was anybody who didn't know the Lemming folk," said he.

"Have you ever seen any of them around here?" demanded Jumper.

"No," replied Whitey. "Come to think of it, I never have."

"Then why should you expect me to know anything about them?" continued Jumper.

"I hadn't thought of that," replied Whitey. "Up in the Far North where my home is everybody knows the Lemming folk. Were it not for them a lot of us would be unable to live up there. It seems queer not to see any of them around here. It would do me a world of good to see just one. I would feel more at home."

"Lemmings Are Such Good Eating," Replied Whitey Plaintively

"That is all right, but you haven't told me yet what they are," cried Jumper. He was growing impatient.

"Haven't I? Oh, excuse me, please," replied Whitey. "Do you happen to know Whitefoot the Wood Mouse or Danny Meadow Mouse?"

"Of course, I do," retorted Jumper. "What have they to do with the Lemming folk?"

"Nothing," said Whitey. "Nothing at all, only they are cousins."

"Do you mean that the Lemmings are members of the Mouse family?" demanded Jumper.

Whitey nodded his round white head. "That's it," said he. "That's just it. The Lemmings are members of the Mouse family, and look it. You would know it right away if you should see one. My, I wish I could see one this very minute. It would make me feel quite at home."

"Which do they look more like, Danny Meadow Mouse or Whitefoot the Wood Mouse?" asked Jumper.

"Danny Meadow Mouse; Danny, most decidedly," replied Whitey.

"Have they tails as short as Danny's?" persisted Jumper.

Whitey chuckled. "If you should see a Lemming you probably would insist that he had no tail at all," he replied. "But you would be mistaken. Danny Meadow Mouse has a short tail, but his Lemming cousins have even shorter tails. Lemmings are heavier and chunkier and look as if Old Mother Nature forgot to give them ears."

"Did she?" inquired Jumper eagerly.

"Of course not," replied Whitey. "They are hidden in the fur." Whitey sighed as well as an Owl can sigh.

"What is that for?" remanded Jumper.

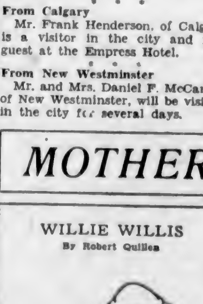

"Lemmings are such good eating," replied Whitey plaintively. "Talking about them makes me homesick. It does so."

The next story: "When the Lemmings Move."

A woman who carved her initials on a florin ten years ago has received the same coin in change. That's nothing; many a man who writes his name on a cheque has it returned to him within a day or two

REPRESENTATIVE OF MOTOR COMPANY SEES GOOD BUSINESS AHEAD

Mr. F. Harris, special representative of the Durant Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., arrived in Victoria today in order that he might confer with the heads of the Atkinson Motor Company, Ltd., local Durant distributors. Mr. Harris is making his annual tour of the Western provinces, to gain a personal knowledge of business conditions in every district and city. In conversation he struck a most optimistic note with regard to the automobile industry, reporting a definite trend toward improvement since the first of the year. His position enables him to gain a comprehensive view of the business as a whole, and he predicts still greater increase to take effect about July. Mr. Harris represents the only all-Canadian company, manufacturing and operating exclusively in the Dominion and not controlled by outside capital or interests. Since the first of the year, when the Durant Motors of Canada, Ltd., were taken over by Canadians, a marked improvement has been noticeable in market conditions, and everything points to an increase of business.

Scots Catholics Reported Gaining On Presbyterians

Church Official Discusses Influx of Irish Catholics Into Scotland With Bearing on Scottish Ideals and Religion

The steady growth in Scotland of the Roman Catholic population of Irish extraction by natural causes and by immigration, combined with the emigration of young Scots overseas, is detailed in a recent issue of The Scots Observer by an official of the Church of Scotland.

According to this journal the Roman Catholic proportion, which was four and one-half per cent in 1851, had risen, through the industrial immigration from Ireland to 12.33 per cent in 1921, and was computed to be 13.33 per cent last year. It is stated that in the Glasgow area, out of a total population of 2,070,000, 22 per cent are Roman Catholics. In Lanarkshire, the most densely populated country in Scotland, the members of this community number one in three, as compared with one in eight for all Scotland. It is held to be "not an overstatement to say that the industrial plain of Scotland, stretching from Glasgow in the west to Dundee and Edinburgh in the east, will soon have within it a dominant Irish race."

C.N.R. WORKS WITH FARMER

Dr. W. J. Black Now in City Tells of Co-operation by Railway

EXPRESSES ACCORD WITH BENNETT PLAN

That the Western farmer has wearied of being told by people of other occupations how he should run his business, and that any improvement to be brought about must come largely from the farmer himself since he alone controls farm management, was the statement made in Victoria yesterday by Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture for the Canadian National Railways.

Interviewed at the Empress Hotel regarding his views on the present crisis in agriculture, Dr. Black, who lived for many years in the West, and is thoroughly conversant with the farmers' conditions, said:

"It is scarcely necessary to state that the railway is vitally interested in the progress of farming in all provinces of Canada, and especially in the West. Our interest and that of the farmer harmonize almost completely; unless he enjoys a measure of success the progress of the railway becomes more difficult. When evidence of depression first became apparent nearly two years ago, the railways' department of agriculture, at the instance of the president, Sir Henry Thornton, proceeded to give special attention to problems confronting the business. Various methods found successful in this and other countries were studied, and, wherever possible, consistent with proper relationship to the farming people and existing agricultural agencies, improved methods have been advocated and fostered.

IS NATIONAL QUESTION

"The whole question is a national one and must be treated from a national standpoint. It is, of course, certain that farmers in many districts and in a great many instances will find it advisable to reorganize their farming methods in such a way that their farm revenue will come from a greater number of sources than has been the case in the past. In other words, diversification will become more extensive than ever.

"But may I point out to the Canadian people that any such reorganization of farming methods on the part of farmers should, to become fully effective, be linked up with a definite endeavor on the part of all the Canadian people, to assist the farming industry to find profitable markets for the increased number of products which are produced under a more diversified system of farming. Only under such a national marketing endeavor could diversification be successful. Reorganization of farming methods alone will not accomplish the desired result, which is to increase as greatly as possible the comparative value of the produce of the farm, and hence the quantity and quality of its products.

CO-OPERATE WITH BENNETT

"Sir Henry Thornton has announced the readiness of the Canadian National Railways to participate in Premier Bennett's plan for the establishment of an agricultural credit corporation for the extension of mixed farming in the West. The success of such a plan obviously will be found in the intelligent manner in which it is inaugurated and directed, both from the standpoint of the individual farmer and the country as a whole. Any effort at a sudden wholesale switch to livestock production, for instance, would only bring about the same condition we have today in wheat. The whole question must be considered from a national marketing standpoint, in order that Canadian agricultural production may be brought into line with the needs of the large export markets which are available overseas, as well as the markets at home."

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If February 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11:45 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 2 p.m. and from 5:30 p.m. to 6:45 p.m.

Astrological influences denote for February 21, a day of useful activity, stimulation of thought, and clear vision. Not so much a time for new enterprise, as for the correction of errors in past efforts. It is an auspicious occasion for travel, and for the formation of new ties.

A child born on this February 21 will be self-willed, and, when thwarted, reveal a violent attitude. These traits must be eliminated if it is ever to become what the fates have decreed—a strong, purposeful character with a background of geniality and companionability.

If your birthday is February 21, the stars presage that your bed will not be of roses. You will have to struggle long and hard to purge your system of envy, jealousy and violent dislikes. If you have succeeded in doing this, you will have acquired the virtues of tolerance, agreeableness, and contentment, all very necessary qualities if you are to enjoy the career for which you are destined. Your horoscope denotes that you possess high ideals, and try to live up to them; that you have more than average intelligence and know how to apply it; that you have well-balanced, although strong, convictions, and do not hesitate to proclaim them. You will not have many friends. The few you have, however, will make up in loyalty for lack of numbers. You take life too seriously to appeal to many. You also take yourself very seriously, and have no sense of humor. Your sense of justice is very marked, and you feel others' wrongs as much as though they were inflicted on you.

Association with a partner would "cramp your style." You must, to get the best results, "go it on your own." In your home life, you will dominate but not domineer. You will be constant in your affections, and, though not given to emotional outbursts, will secure the abiding loyalty, the deep affection and the loving respect of those near and dear to you.

DOUBLE RUGBY BILL CARDED AT ROYAL TODAY

Freak Putt Gives Miss Helen Hicks Win at 19th Hole

Virginia Van Wie Sinks Opponent's Ball in Trying to Get by Dead Stymie on Extra Hole in Final of Florida Women's Golf

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP).—After it seemed she had tossed away her chances with a badly-topped brassie shot, Helen Hicks, of Hewlett, L.I., stood idly by on the nineteenth hole today and watched victory in the Florida women's golf championship come suddenly her way, as her opponent, Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, knocked Helen's ball into the cup in a futile attempt to negotiate a dead stymie.

This freakish finish was the climax to a sensationally close and keenly fought final round contest over the links of the Palm Beach Country Club. It brought triumph to the sturdy New York girl by the slender margin of one up, marking Miss Hicks' first victory in the tournament, at the same time costing Miss Van Wie the chance for a third win and permanent possession of the championship cup. All square at the ninth after an erratic start, still all even at the eighteenth, as they halved sixteen of the eighteen holes and covered the regulation round in seventy-eight strokes each, there was nothing to choose between them as they set off on the first extra hole.

DUNCAN AND ROYALS WILL MEET AT "Y"

Intermediate Cagers to Battle in Lower Island Final Tonight

PEDEN BROTHERS TO FACE TACOMA

As a preliminary to the senior attraction between the Sun Life Assurance quintette, of Tacoma, and Peden Brothers, city league champions, local basketball officials announced yesterday that the snappy Shell Oil quintette, of Duncan, will clash with the Royals, of First United Church, in the first of a two-game series for the Lower Island Intermediate "B" championship at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

With an undefeated record behind them, the Royals will be at full strength against the Up-Islanders, with hopes of gaining a leg on the title. In the Oilers, the locals should find plenty of opposition, as the Duncanites have swept through all the Up-Island squads without being extended. The teams are expected to give a fine display, as they are two of the best aggregations for their weight on the Island.

Tommy Forbes will handle the intermediate "B" fixture, and Alan Le Marquand the senior battle. In the Tacomans, the fans will witness a sweet bunch of ball handlers—a team that has played in thirty games without defeat. Pedens went through light workouts this week and will be in the pink of condition against the visitors.

LYNN PATRICK

captain of the Victoria High School Rugby and basketball teams, who will be seen in action this evening as a forward for Peden Brothers. City Senior League cage champs, against the powerful Sun Life Assurance quintette from Tacoma at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

COUGARS SPRING PUCK SURPRISE

Hand Rosebuds First Setback of Season in Roller League—Plimleys Down Rovers

Taking a 3-0 lead in the first period and maintaining it throughout by fine defensive work, Cougars sprung the biggest upset of the roller hockey season last night at the Gray Line Rink, when they outplayed the league leading Rosebuds to walk off the floor with a 5-3 victory in an interemidate fixture in the City League. After a hard-fought free scoring game, Plimley & Ritchie scored a 13-11 win over the Rovers in a senior league tussle.

Whitford refereed and the teams follow:

Cougars—Stewardson, Brown (3), Scoular (1), Hynes, Doherty, Holness and Barnswell (1).

Rosebuds—Baker, Rabey, Jones, Musgrave, J. Murray, A. Murray (2), Scott (1), Sage and G. Baker.

Plimleys—Banks, J. Carlow (4), A. Pellett (1), Shouldice, R. Carlow (6), I. Wallace (2), Thompson, Taylor and Bossom.

Rovers—B. Blackstock, Dyre, J. Blackstock (4), Erb, Tyson (3), E. More (3), Taylor (1).

T. Angus Is Captain at Gorge Vale

Preparations for the season were made last night by the Gorge Vale Golf Club, Victoria's latest addition to the Royal and Ancient game, when a large attendance of members gathered at the temporary clubhouse and elected committees and captains for the ensuing year. Lieut.-Col. A. F. M. Slater occupied the chair.

Mrs. Barber-Starkey was the unanimous choice for women's captain, while Thomas Angus was elected skipper of the men's section. Dave Fyvie was elected vice-captain.

The match committee for the year follows: Major A. A. Warder, Capt. C. E. Mackenzie and W. B. Christopher, while Rev. St. James Payne, C. F. Smith, H. Collings, F. Barber-Starkey and D. Jackson were placed on the greens committee.

JUVENILE FOOTBALL

Oak Bay United and Five C's will meet this afternoon at Beacon Hill Park at 1:30 o'clock in the only juvenile soccer game scheduled. Bridge will referee.

DOCKERS TO MEET WESTS AT B. HILL

Esquimalt to Present New Centre in Tolmie Cup Match

JOKERS AND CITY ELEVENS TO MEET

With hopes of continuing their string of victories in the Tolmie Cup competition, Esquimalt will march out a new centre forward for the fans to take a glance at this afternoon against Victoria West in the feature attraction at the Beacon Hill grounds at 2:30 o'clock. Joe Shillingsford is the new player and hails from the Mainland. He is a fine dribbler, a good shot and a tower of strength to any front line of attack. Jokers and Victoria City will battle it out in a second trophy encounter at the same hour at Central Park in a game that should be closely fought from the start.

Just how Esquimalt's new centre will work in with the rest of the forwards remains to be seen, as this will be his first appearance before local fans. Shillingsford is small in stature, but has a world of speed and is a good shot with either foot.

Manager Poyntz, of the green shirts, is trotting out a strong lineup and hopes to put a halt to the Dockers' winning streak. In their last meeting, the teams fought to a 2-2 deadlock after a fine exhibition.

CITY REORGANIZES

With a reorganized line-up, Victoria City will take the field at even odds to come through against the Jokers. The City management has strengthened the team in all departments and with any kind of luck should break the streak of illluck that has been following them in late appearances.

Robb will referee at Central Park and McMillan at Beacon Hill.

Line-ups follow:

Victoria City: Abbott, Margison, Dobbyn, McLaren, Gibbons, Barnswell, Cameron, Campbell, Smith, Glancy and McConnell.

Victoria West—Restall, Shanks, Harwood, Peden, Williams, Stewart, Youson, Mulcahy, Peers, Robinson and Shanks.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 (AP).—President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League will withhold his decision on the Chicago Black Hawks' protest of their defeat by the New York Rangers last Sunday night, until the latter club files its reply.

Referee Mickey Ion, who made the decision that cost the Hawks a chance for a tie, was scheduled to officiate in last night's Chicago-Detroit game but did not work. The Rangers have five days in which to make a reply to the Chicago protest.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

We Know More About the Sun Than the Core of the Earth—All theories regarding composition, shape and consistency of the interior of our earth are merely speculative. It is assumed that the hard crust, or the cold outer portion of the earth, is about nine miles deep. Beyond that depth the materials of which it is composed are thought to be liquid, or even gaseous. In comparison we are much better informed about the sun, the mean distance of which is 93,000,000 miles from our planet.

Ralph Sanders Rode a Bull 2,700 Miles—Sanders, mounted on a sturdy bull of the Texas range, arrived in New York City on January 20, 1931, after a 254-day trip from Brownsville, Texas, over a roundabout route covering 2,700 miles. The trip, which started May 12, 1930, was undertaken in the interest of Sanders' health, and it greatly benefited both rider and mount. The latter gained 100 pounds in weight while wearing out seven sets of iron shoes.

The Drone Bee Has a Grandfather But No Father—According to Dr. Dzierson, the eminent entomologist, the fertilized queen bee can lay fertilized or unfertilized eggs at will. The drone, or male bee, is a product of the latter. It follows that the drone has a mother and a maternal grandfather, but no male parent.

SHEA TAKES TROUNCING

Italian Featherweight Outclasses Western Boy at New York

8,000 FANS SEE BOUT AT GARDEN

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—Eddie Shea, the midwest's hope in the featherweight class, came back to New York for the first time in six years tonight, and took one of the soldiest and most surprising whippings of his long career from the busy fists of the bustling Italian, Kid Francis.

Shea stepped out from under the cloud of suspicion that had banned him here tactly since his losing bid for Charley Phil Rosenberg's bantamweight crown years ago, and into the battle pit an overwhelming favorite to beat the sturdy European.

Instead, he ran into an aggressive, two-fisted youngster who buried him for ten rounds under a cloud of leather, chased him all over the ring and easily took the unanimous verdict of the referee and the two judges. There were no knockdowns.

Shea had the better of the weights, scaling 126 to 122 for Kid Francis. The crowd was another slim turnout of 8,200.

Line-up of Esquimalt juniors for today's soccer game follows: Barker, March, Hoggarth, Painter, S. Hicks, Mitchell, Stewart, McLean, Richard, Warder and Evans. Reserve, Burnett.

WANDERERS TO MEET BAYS IN IMPORTANT SENIOR ENCOUNTER

Victory for Oak Bay XV Will Put Them Out in Front in Race for Second Half Title—Oarsmen to Take Field Minus Two Star Regulars—Wanderers at Full Strength

Victoria College Team to Meet J.B.A.A. in Intermediate Final

With a victory needed to put them out in first place in the race for the second half senior Rugby championship, Oak Bay Wanderers will pit their strongest team against the weakened J.B.A.A. fifteen this afternoon, when the teams will clash at Royal Athletic Park in the second game of a twin bill. In the first encounter Victoria College and J.B.A.A. will meet to decide the winners of the second half of the Intermediate League. A win will give the former the city championship, they having won the first half title. This conflict will start at 2:30 o'clock. Acland will referee the senior game and Grant the other.

The oarsmen will present one of the weakest line-ups of the season, but will be out fighting to down the youthful Wanderers, who have captured their last two starts against the oarsmen and Canadian Scottish. Bays will be without the services of "Bailor" Stagg, star wing three-quarter, who has been transferred to England, and Sparks, one of their star forwards, who has also left the city. Both those players were members of the local "rep" squad, and their absence will be felt.

CHANGE BACK DIVISION

Several changes in the back division have been made in an attempt to strengthen the side. Middleton has been assigned the fullback position, while Art Eagel will take an inside three-quarter position. Middleton's return to the game should add power. He is a fine ball handler, a strong tackle and a good kicker. Eagel has lots of speed, and is a hard man to stop when he gets going. Gordie Godwin will also be back in uniform, and his fine kicking should give the Bays additional strength.

Lex Johnson, Caviness and Skillings will be the other threes. McMillan and Cockin will hold down the halfback positions, with Moses, Fanning, Pettigrew, Goad, D'Arcy, D. Parfitt and Warnock composing the pack.

WANDERERS SAME

Wanderers will have the same line-up as that which surprised the Scottish last week and won 3-0. Ossler will be at fullback, with Thornberry, Usher, Pease, Haines and Golby as three-quarters. Symons and Harold Parfitt will be the halves, while I. and G. Douglas, Hood, King, Harrison, de Blacquiere and Hopewell making up the front line of attack.

Wanderers went through three workouts this week and are in the pink of condition for the fray. Last week it was their ability to stand the hard grind which gave them a notable victory over the powerful Scottish crew. Oak Bay has a youthful squad which is rapidly gaining experience, and will be a tough bunch to beat in future games.

A victory for the Wanderers will put them two points in front of the Scottish in the second half race. If the Wanderers "in today, and the Bays turn back the Scottish next Saturday, Wanderers will win the second half title and the right to meet J.B.A.A. for the city championship.

ARSENAL XI HAVE EASY TASK TODAY

English First Division Leaders to Meet Lowly Manchester City

EVERTON TO TACKLE NOTTINGHAM FOREST

LONDON, Feb. 20 (CP).—Arsenal, leading team in the First Division of the English Soccer League, will have a chance to pull away still further in the race for the championship honors on Saturday. Arsenal, who have a three-point advantage over The Wednesday with two games in hand, meet the lowly Manchester United at Highbury, so that it will be a case of the top and the bottom clubs in the division meeting. Arsenal should win easily. The Wednesday also meet a Manchester club, the City, and as they must travel, a division of the points is the best they can expect.

In the Second Division, Everton are hosts to Nottingham Forest, and their fine lead in the championship table is in no danger of being cut. Tottenham Hotspurs, fighting to hold second place against West Bromwich Albion, visit Bury and have a tough assignment. West Bromwich meet Southampton and ground advantage should give them the major points, which will bring them to within one point of the 'Spurs if the latter lose.

In Scotland, a merry battle is proceeding by three clubs at the top of the table. Motherwell are leading by two points, but they have played a game more than Rangers with Kilmarnock and should win, while Celtic travel to Paisley to meet the fighting St. Mirren Club. The result in the Celtic-St. Mirren fracas may be a draw.

BLUE RIBBONS REACH ISLAND KNOCKOUT FINAL

Local Cage Champs Rally to Win From Duncanites, 14-13

Earn Right to Meet Nanaimo in Final Round by Winning Lower Island Two-Game Series by 40-33 Total—Duncan "C" Squad Wins—Will Meet Fountains Here

Tacomans Down Duncan, 43-22

(Special to The Colonist)

DUNCAN, Feb. 20.—With defeat staring them in the face, Blue Ribbons, Victoria city champions, staged a great second half rally here tonight to score a 14-13 victory over the strong Duncan women in the second of a two-game series in the final of the Lower Island Knockout basketball championship. The Ribbons won the round by a total of 40-33 and will meet Nanaimo for the Island honors. Sun Life, of Tacoma, uncorked the greatest exhibition of basketball seen in these parts for many years when they snowed under the powerful Duncan seniors, 43-22. Duncan's senior "C" quintette defeated Westholme, 26-20, and will clash with Fountain Service, of Victoria, at the Capital City next week for more Island laurels.

Entering the fray seven points down as a result of the first fixture played in Victoria, Duncan's fair sex stepped on the gas and wiped out this deficit in the first three minutes by caging eight points while they held the visitors scoreless. The home quintette were leading at the interval, 8-5.

Changing their method of play, the Ribbons staged strong attacks in the second half that netted results. They swept through the locals' guards and after a great finish walked off the floor with a 14-13 victory. Berta Peden, with ten points, was the bright light for the Victoria crew.

Teams follow:

Blue Ribbons—B. Boyce (2), M. Wilson, R. Bethell, K. Atherton, T. Rennie, J. Edward (2) and B. Peden (10).

Duncan—I. Arthurs (1), R. Weeks (4), I. Stocks, I. Castley (4), J. Weeks (2) and G. Stocks (2).

CROW IS STAR

Led by "Bud" Crow, clever little skipper, Sun Life Assurance quintette proved far too strong for the Duncan seniors. Although the smallest man on the team, Crow gave a finished brand of basketball and delighted the large crowd with his trickiness and marvelous shooting. The visitors took the lead from the start and were never in danger, leading at halftime, 22-10.

Continuing their sparkling display in the second half, the Tacomans showed the fans how basketball should be played, their combination completely baffling the local guards.

Teams follow:

Tacoma—Crow (15), Gibson (7), McDougall (13), Tillinson (1), Mazza (7).

Duncan—A. Dirom (4), J. Dirom (1), Evans, McDonald (4), L. Talbot (10), Wylie (3).

DUNCAN WINS

Taking a 12-5 lead during the first half, Duncan's senior "C" squad earned the right to meet Victoria Fountains in the Capital City by scoring a 26-20 victory over Westholme. Kenneth was the big noise in the locals' win with fifteen points.

WOULD REMOVE PHOSPHATE TAX

Encouragement of Mining of Low Grade Ores Would Follow Action

Reduction in taxation on the mining of phosphates in British Columbia is proposed by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, in a bill to amend existing regulations, introduced yesterday in the Legislature for first reading. The amendment would remove a tax of ten cents a ton now imposed on phosphates mined in the province.

The removal of the tax, which is now paid in addition to a royalty of fifteen cents a ton, would be of particular benefit in the Crow's Nest district, where a low-grade ore is being worked.

Closer control of fire hazards and other powers in respect to motion picture theatres are proposed in amendments to the Fire Marshal Act and the Moving Pictures Act, introduced by Hon. R. H. Pooley, K.C. Licensing, inspection and other provisions are also contained in the Fire Marshal measure, which will be explained by Mr. Pooley when it comes up for second reading.

A SCHOOLGIRL'S LAMENT

If plough and bough should rhyme with now,
Why spell them same as rough?
Or why spell tough or rough like plough
And then sound them like bluff?

Another thing that puzzles me
Is that said should rhyme with wed,
And if tea and lea sound the same as bee
Why do they end with an a instead?

It makes it very hard to learn
When row isn't spelt like woe;
And if turn was only the same as fern
I shouldn't get mixed up so.

But do you think that it's quite right
That maid isn't spelt like shade?
Or shouldn't height be spelt like bite
And weighed the same as played?

"Miss Jones is a very bright young woman."

"Does she say clever things?"

"Better than that. She sees the point when somebody else says them."

RAY MILLER PUTS JOHN JADICK AWAY IN OPENING ROUND

DETROIT, Feb. 20 (AP). — Ray Miller, Chicago lightweight, used his famous left hook to knock out John Jadick, of Philadelphia, in the first round of a scheduled ten-round bout at Olympia Arena tonight. Miller's first blow sent Jadick down for the count.

Bachelor, who has forgotten whether the baby is a boy or girl: "Well, well, but he's a fine little fellow, isn't she? How old is it now? Do her teeth bother him much? She looks like you, doesn't he? Everyone says it does!"

British Sport as Viewed by Tom Turner

TOM TURNER

Jack Pettifer who is described as the latest and most promising of Old Country "hopes" appears to have fully justified anticipations, for at a recent heavyweight competition held at the Crystal Palace, in London, he made rings round the pride of the Belgians, a huge fighter by the name of Gerard Chesquierre, in a ten-round contest. The latter is said to be a particularly flashy fighter and as game as they make 'em, and when it came to in-fighting he was as good as the Londoner. Pettifer, however, by dint of standing off and using tactics of the Charlie Mitchell order boxed him to a frazzle and the big Belgian retired at the eighth round with a somewhat disfigured face.

The novices' competitions brought out a lot of promising talent amongst the heavies, Fred Rowland, of Exeter, being a likely prospect for future honors in the ring. It may be remembered that eight years ago Phil Scott gave equal promise at one of these popular fistic carnivals, but as we all know, he has not "filled the bill." Let us hope that Jack Pettifer will prove a better man.

I have been asked somewhere about fifty times for my opinion of the procedure meted out to our local boxer, Jumbo Davies, by the U.S. Immigration Department, and I can only join with hundreds of others in regretting the incident. As we all know, both Jumbo and his brother are two of the finest examples of youth to be found in the boxing game, and are a credit to the city to which they belong. Unfortunately, they did not make themselves conversant with the stringent laws of the Stars and Stripes and as our old friend "Bill" Shakespeare would say—"there's the rub." I have not the slightest doubt that if a proper application had been made, and the intention of returning to Victoria after each or some of the engagements had been fulfilled, had been clearly defined, there would have been no trouble. Even now, I think the authorities would consider an application made on the lines of other boxing and wrestling exponents who come and go as they please, but I do not imagine they will take much notice of some of our irate correspondents who fancy the U.S. officials are doing anything in the manner of uncalled-for discrimination. A little diplomacy in such cases is all that is required.

It was with regret I learned recently of the passing away of Captain Hugh McVicker, the old Rugby footballer. A member of a family which included three Internationals, the late captain figured in the Irish fifteen against England, Scotland, Wales and France, and three years ago versus New South Wales. He was at one period captain of Edinburgh University and a much-valued player in the ranks of Richmond and the Army.

And so at last the French Rugby Federation has arrived at the conclusion that rough play is not a requisite to the game, and brutality on the field is to be put down with a firm hand. This is not all, for the referee will in future be authorized to stop the game in the event of over-exuberance of feeling on the part of spectators. Accidents will, of course, happen in a game of such a strenuous nature as Rugby, but when it comes to three fatalities in a little more than as many months, then it was quite time for the authorities to step in with a view of preventing further tragedies.

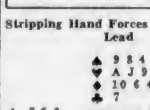

In the course of conversation the other day with Fred White, who well be remembered as one of the shining lights in the old lacrosse days, we both came to the conclusion that there must yet be coursing through our veins a strain of the old gladiatorial blood when "thumbs up" or "thumbs down" meant life or death to a contestant in the arena. "Fred" recalled those times when players, more especially down East, often used the crosse as a means of attack, very much as the ancient warrior would use a battle-axe, and so long as spectators saw plenty of this sort of thing they flocked to see the game. However, the time came when the roughness of play was partially subdued and then began a falling off in the matter of "gates." So it is with other sports of today. Take, for instance, a hockey match in Vancouver. Unless half the crowd went wild over a slight "passage at arms" or could relieve their pent-up feelings by be-spattering the ice with all sorts of irrelevant matter in protest of the referee's ruling, they would go away with the feeling that they had not received value for money and would probably not want to go again.

Fatalities in the hunting field are fortunately few and far between, and both huntsmen and their mounts often appear to bear a charmed life in view of the risks they sometimes run. A short time back, however, a curious coincidence occurred in which two valuable hunters fell dead beneath their riders—who, more curious still, were father and daughter. This happened at a meeting of the famous Cottesmore hounds at Melton Mowbray.

The first horse to collapse was ridden by the Hon. Mrs. Theodore Grosvenor, daughter of R. E. Strawbridge, the American millionaire. The unfortunate lady was heavily thrown and rendered temporarily unconscious, while the horse died on the spot. Mr. Strawbridge remounted his hunter with a view to accompany his daughter, when his animal suddenly collapsed and he was thrown to the ground, fortunately, however, without receiving serious injury.

About the same time the above accidents were happening, L. Whitfield, the crack amateur jockey who was to have ridden Sir Lindsay in the Grand National, sustained a serious injury to his spine after being thrown from his horse at Hurst Park.

The Henley Royal Regatta will this year include the best eight-oared crew Germany can produce. Last year, the Grand Challenge Cup winners—London Rowing Club—visited Germany, while a German sculler succeeded in reaching the final heat of the Diamonds only to be beaten by Joe Guest, of Toronto. While the Fatherland has produced many good oarsmen, they will have to have made considerable improvement in rowing if they are to carry back Henley honors. Still it is good to see them entering for the great aquatic festival.

Stripping the hand to force a favorable lead is a favorite device of experts. It is often overlooked by less astute players and losing finesse are taken with the explanation, "Well, partner, I did my best, but it wouldn't work." Of course it didn't because it wasn't the best.

The hand given above was played in a duplicate match. East and West were vulnerable, otherwise West might have ventured a further bid on his strong Club hand, but a set of 1,000 points, which would have resulted had he made a small bid, was not to be taken lightly. Wise discretion stopped the defensive bidding.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract: South rightly shows his Spade suit first, both because of its greater defensive strength and also because it is much safer to show a four-card suit early, rather than when the cost of its showing might be very high.

West makes his one defensive bid beyond the trick-taking power of his hand, hoping to cut out further bidding and perhaps escape a double, knowing he can either make a game or that North and South can make a game against him. North holds support for the Spade bid, but not enough to raise to five, particularly in view of the fact that South may wish to double.

East passes, and South refuses to be shut out and shows the two-suited value of his hand by bidding five Diamonds. West passes, and North, appreciating that the Spade suit is probably a four-carder, while the Diamond suit has length and probably top card-strength, leaves the contract at five Diamonds.

Auction: The Auction bidding would follow similar lines.

THE PLAY

West opens the King of Clubs and when Dummy shows up with a singleton, he switches to the trump, leading a low card. A Spade lead would produce the same result. South wins and takes another round of trumps, then picks up all the Spades, still holding two trumps in Dummy. After four rounds of Spades he leads the ten of Hearts from his own hand and when West discloses that his hand is blank of Hearts, he lets East win the trick.

East is helpless. He can only lead a Heart to North's tenace or a Club, which South will trump in the Dummy, discarding his losing Heart in his own hand. South then makes five Diamonds which he could not have done had he not first stripped East's hand of Spades and Diamonds, before taking the double finesse.

Renewed Rally on New York Market Staged by Bulls

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP).—The bull party, which is beginning to feel at home in the stock market, successfully engineered another rally today.

Buying of the utility, Chemical, and in the last hour the motor issues, hid a good deal of selling in stocks that lacked strong sponsorship, but profit-taking by traders leaving for an extended week-end holiday was a minor influence. The turnover, 3,800,000 shares, was the largest of the week, with the exception of Tuesday when the market sold off.

Aside from U.S. Steel, which turned heavy after touching the new high, industrials did moderately well. Coppers, oils and rails lacked color and so did most of the specialties, although Auburn rose 10. Allied Chemical's net gain of 9 1-2, representing all but a point of its maximum rise, stood out.

A two-point jump in Radio, together with a smaller advance in Columbia Graphaphone, revived reports that Radio was seeking to acquire Columbia through the latter's British subsidiary, H.M.V. Gramaphone.

The motor stocks easily rolled upward in the late trading. The bond market held steady as the volume of business slumped to the lowest level of the year.

A little activity in convertible issues, the natural sequence to the bullish trend of shares, and strength of several European bonds, offered about the only relief from the dullest session since the first week in January. The day's transfers amounted to only $8,100,000.

PACIFIC BOND OPENS BRANCH

Corporation Establishes Office Here Under Management of N. W. Pirrie

The Pacific Bond Corporation, Limited, of Vancouver, announces the opening of a branch office in Victoria with offices located at 614-615 Central Building. This office is under the management of Noble W. Pirrie. On the sales staff, associated with Mr. Pirrie, are Robert Cran and W. G. Lythgoe, both well known in Victoria.

The policy of the Pacific Bond Corporation, Limited, has been to confine its dealings to high grade securities generally, specializing in Canadian Government and municipal bonds and the higher grade Canadian corporation issues. Its facilities enable it to give complete investment service, and it announces, as part of this service, the cashing of all coupons without charge, other than that required by foreign income tax regulations.

The company maintains an insurance department, giving a complete service in this regard.

The Pacific Bond Corporation, Limited, is a member of the Vancouver Stock Exchange, operating this seat for the convenience of its clients who may be interested in buying or selling local stocks.

Mr. Pirrie became widely known as director-general of explosives supplies for Canada during the Great War. He was appointed to the position in December, 1915, having previously accompanied the mission of D. A. Thomas (later Lord Rhonda), as the accredited representative of the British Ministry of Munitions, to the United States to speed up the production of supplies there.

Prior to the war Mr. Pirrie owned and operated the Vancouver assay office, leaving on the outbreak of hostilities to rejoin the Royal Engineers with whom he had served. At the conclusion of the war he returned to British Columbia and engaged in the production of explosives and in metallurgy until joining the staff of the British Columbia Bond Corporation in October, 1924. He remained with that firm as bond salesman for the past five years.

BAHAMA GROWERS CAPTURE MARKET

Trade Treaty With Canada Revolutionizes Agriculture of Island Group

NASSAU, Bahamas, Feb. 20.—The Bahama Islands, successful in experimental shipments of fruits and vegetables to Canada under prevailing trade preferences, will now remodel their entire agricultural industry. The change will be along lines to suit Canada's requirements for Winter vegetables, and diversified farming will be featured next Fall.

Marketing plans for the coming year were discussed at a meeting Thursday, held in conjunction with the Bahamas' first agricultural conference which came to a close today.

During the present Winter, the Bahamian tomato growers, with more than 18,000,000 tomatoes exported, captured the Canadian markets, ousting non-British fruit from the Dominion.

FOREIGN MARKETS RECORD ADVANCE

Argentine Quotations Gain 2¼ Cents—Liverpool Also Closes Higher

(Logan & Bryan)

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—The strength in foreign markets was the main factor apparently in stimulating buying here. The market showed more ability to absorb the profit taking sales but sold off rather sharply in the late trade when Winnipeg turned easy. Liverpool closed 1 1-2 to 1 3-4 higher, with an advance of 2 1-4 at Buenos Aires. Early reports from Winnipeg reported trade more active, with sentiment bullish and more attention being paid to the weather conditions.

The weather in this country was mild with important precipitation.

The inference from the recent motion of wheat market is that low prices have discounted the bearish features and with an absence of unsettled feeling of a few weeks ago, there is more disposition to work on the buying side.

Corn showed considerable strength early but sold off sharply later when wheat turned easy. Cash demand was quiet with basis easier and free offerings from outside markets.

Rally Likely To Go Higher Whitney Says

(Logan & Bryan)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Whitney, of the Wall Street Financial Bureau, says: Nothing having transpired to alter the situation existing in the street as described yesterday, I think it logical to assume that whatever profit taking that comes into the market today will be absorbed and have a relatively negligible effect in the way of killing the advance. Accordingly I think one may reasonably anticipate that at least in the early part of next week higher prices in general throughout the list will be recorded on the tape and prices as represented by average figures in the industrials of approximately 190. At this writing it appears that the approximate 190 level for the industrials will about wind up this jamboree. There is nothing to justify it but the conditions in the market appear to be such as to permit it, and that is all there is to be said about it. The aftermath is another thing but something not being considered at all at this time, although I think it will be rather serious, and is worth consideration, for when the present sponsors have distributed what they consider a sufficient amount of stock and step aside, letting prices take care of themselves, the market must inevitably react to a level reflecting the condition of current business, plus immediate future prospects.

Abana Mines Co.

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (CP).—With a view to reorganizing Abana Mines, Limited, a petition to wind up the affairs of the company was presented in the bankruptcy court offices here today by Oscar J. Klein, financial agent and one of the company's shareholders.

The action was taken to forestall possible bankruptcy proceedings expected to be taken by some creditor of the company, in which case the shareholders would not be in as good a position to direct the reorganization.

Soviet Publishes Figures for 1930 Exports of Wheat

MOSCOW, Feb. 20 (AP).—Soviet Russia's exports of grain for the year 1930 were 4,846,024 metric tons (about 180,000,000 bushels), valued at 207,064,000 rubles (about $103,334,000), according to official figures obtained today by the Associated Press.

In quantity this is less than half of Russia's grain exports for 1913, the last year before the war, when 10,670,016 tons of grain were shipped abroad.

More than half the 1930 exports were sent abroad during October, November and December. In those three months 2,783,281 metric tons of grain were sold abroad for 100,124,000 rubles (about $50,012,000), at a much lower price than earlier grain exports brought. During the first nine months Russia exported 2,062,743 metric tons, at a price of 107,044,000 rubles (about $53,522,000).

Fractional Gains Made by Wheat on Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 (CP).—Unexpected strength at Liverpool and Buenos Aires, and bullish advices of further harvest damage in the Argentine, continued the advance on the wheat market today. Fractional gains of from 3-8 to 1-2 cent were registered at the close. The May future at 65 5-8 and July at 68 3-4 cents each were 3-8 higher, while October sold at 68 3-4, an advance of 1-2 cent. Buying in futures was fair. Government export figures were not available, but there was evidence of a slightly better demand. Cash and coarse grain trading was without feature. Prices for the most part followed the trend of wheat.

Western oils reflected a cut in the price paid for Turner Valley Oil, Home Oil dropping 23 to $1.20. Ajax and Acme were somewhat stronger in tone.

Bridge River Placer Ground Being Tested

(Mason & Diespecker)

When power purposes demanded the damming of Bridge River above a rich placer gold area, and the diversion of Bridge River into Seaton Lake, it was apparent that the rich gold-bearing gravels of the river would be laid bare for dredging operations.

Backed by full financing and under expert supervision, the Lower Bridge River Placers, Limited, decided upon such operations, secured holdings covering eight miles of the choicest gravels, and is today engaged in exhaustive tests of the ground with a view to ascertaining gold recovery.

After completion of the tests of the gravel, which are proceeding, modern machinery will be installed, and extraction of the gold will proceed upon the most modern lines and in accordance with the best mining practice, it is stated by Benton & Hemsworth.

The average estimate states that about 25,000,000 cubic yards of gravel will be available for the company's operations, and it is expected that values will be fully as great as those indicated in the district for many years.

Okalta No. 2, Turner Valley, present depth 5,141 feet, preparing to put on production test after cleaning out. Shot 700 quarts of nitro in effort to increase production. Well formerly produced 25 barrels naphtha per day from an estimated gas flow of 11,000,000 cubic feet. The gas is relatively dry. Depth in lime 384 feet. Entered lime at 4,757 feet; 6 5-8-inch casing cemented in lime at 4,760 feet. Entered Home sand at 4,210 feet; 8 5-8-inch casing cemented at 4,192 feet.

Richfield No. 1, present depth 3,890 feet and drilling. Made 155 feet during last week; 10 3-4-inch casing hanging at 3,770 feet, may carry later 13 3-8-inch casing set at 2,850 feet. Entered McDougall Segur sand at 3,045 feet.

C.D. & P. test of the Waite Valley, Highwood district, was making steady progress in its exploration of the limestone. The bit was stated to be drilling at 75 feet in the lime. The results of this test will throw considerable light on the holdings of several companies nearby.

Eastcrest No. 3 was drilling at 2,749 feet, encountering similar conditions as the company's producer No. 2 "A," although logging somewhat higher. The usual faulting which was shown in other wells on the east flank of this structure, including the first two Eastcrest wells and Homestead, has been revealed in No. 3. It is surmised that present formation is Fernie between the Home and Dalhousie sands.

British Dominion No. 3, Central Turner Valley, was running 8-inch casing into the top of the limestone. This well is 500 feet southwest of the company's No. 2 producer, which entered production at about 120 feet in the lime.

A large charge of nitroglycerine has been shot in the structure well, Central Turner Valley, according to field reports. Operators were preparing for a production test at last report. The well produced 50 to 60 barrels a day from about 400 feet in the lime before the explosion was discharged.

Home Slumps 21c; Mines and Most Oils Are Steady

VANCOUVER, Feb. 20 (CP).—Sharp depreciation in Home Oil, which tumbled to its lowest level in ten years, failed to demoralize the Turner Valley oil group on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Although bears met with considerable success in their demonstration against the division leader, the movement was offset by the extreme apathy of the market. Prices generally closed steady.

Aside from fair accumulation in the cheaper stocks the mines trading was uninteresting. The majority of issues sold at firm prices and net changes at the close were insignificant.

Home opened slightly easier at 1.30, and after a brief period of steadiness dipped sharply to 1.23 before the noon bell. On resumption of trading the stock opened weaker at 1.21 and dropped under moderate offerings to 1.15, to end the day at 1.10 bid, a net loss of 21 cents.

Street rumors of difficulties at the Home producers were denied by Home Oil Company officials. Field reports received by the head office here up to February 18 indicate that steady commercial production is being maintained at all the company's wells. As the wells have not been cleaned out for a considerable time the delivery figures for this month may show a slight falling off. So long as production continues on a commercial basis, it is believed that the operations will not be cleaned out with the diamond drill.

The remainder of the oil shares fluctuated within limited ranges. Calmont rallied to 19 cents from an early setback during which the price broke to a new low at 15, to close at 19 cents bid, down 1 cent below Thursday's close. C. & E. recovered to 65 cents, a net gain of 2 cents, while Royalite hardened 50 cents to 15.50.

Big Missouri attracted buying interest and advanced narrowly from 45 cents, but closed unchanged at 44 1-2 cents bid. Pioneer Gold advanced 1 cent to 1.62. Pend Oreille closed unchanged at 1.15, while Reeves-McDonald gained 2 cents at 40 cents bid. Heavy trading developed in Premier Border and Snowflake, both of which recorded fractional advances.

My Experiences In the World War

By GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING
Commander-in-Chief of the American Expeditionary Forces in the World War.

Chapter XXXVII

Pershing Visits Canadians and Praises "Fine Spirit of That Superb Body"—General Currie Critical of British at Passchendaele Ridge, Where Canada Had 16,000 Casualties —Go Over Pershing's Head to Get Authority From Washington for Specific Shipments of Troops to France.

(Copyright, 1931, in all countries by the North American Newspaper Alliance—World's rights reserved, including the Scandinavian. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited.)

IT was always stimulating to one's morale to visit the headquarters of the Canadians, where one soon caught the fine spirit of that superb body. I made such a visit about this time in the Spring of 1918, and talked with their Corps Commander, Lieutenant General Sir Arthur Currie; his Chief of Staff, Major General Weber; his Chief of Engineers, Major General Lindsay, and others, and had tea with them. The alertness and confidence of these neighbors of ours and the excellent record they had made and were still making gave us as much gratification as though they had been our own. I remember this visit with much pleasure, and recall the prediction of the Canadians that Americans would soon play an important part in the war.

General Currie deplored the fact that the British had so easily given up Passchendaele Ridge, which the year before he had been told must be taken at all cost, and for which the Canadians made the tremendous sacrifice of 16,000 casualties.

His divisions were then holding 9,000 yards each, or a little over five miles of front, as compared with 6,750 yards per division held by Gough's army and 4,200 yards by Byng's division in March. Currie considered that his extension would be excessive in the face of a determined and powerful offensive using shock tactics, but it showed the confidence the British Commander-in-Chief had in them.

At the invitation of Sir Douglas Haig, British Commander-in-Chief, I went to the British General Headquarters, April 20, to discuss the training of our troops with the British and study operations in progress.

Always Welcome

We were always welcome at British headquarters. It so happened that on the day of our arrival Lord Derby, who had just been relieved as Minister of War by Lord Milner, was there en route to Paris as British Ambassador. During dinner the conversation ran along freely, as though we were members of the official family. At length, Lord Derby and Sir Douglas drifted to the subject of British politicians.

It would betray no confidence to say that there was considerable criticism of some who held prominent places. The coalition government came in for its share because of its attitude toward the military High Command. Lord Derby was well known to be a warm supporter of the British Commander-in-Chief, and from what I knew of the relations between the civil and the military authorities of Great Britain it is fair to presume that this might have been the reason he relinquished his post as Minister of War.

He asked why all parties were not represented in our cabinet, but I did not undertake to explain, although I had also often asked myself the same question. It need hardly be recalled that so far as the Americans were concerned, Lord Derby had always been most helpful.

Visits British

I took advantage of the opportunity while on the British front to visit the Nordaques area to inspect the advance elements of the 77th Division, one of the divisions selected for training with the British. We took luncheon with Brigadier General Evan M. Johnson, then temporarily in command, and his staff officers. He praised the soldierly qualities of the men, but said they were very much behind in their training.

This division had suffered severely from the practice followed by the War Department of taking men who had been under training for some time and sending them elsewhere for special purposes, a total of 30,000 men having been thus selected from time to time and their places filled with recruits. Therefore, the infantry and machine gun units of the division, about 17,000 men, that reported in France, were composed largely of untrained or partially trained troops.

Makes Agreement

While at Sir Douglas' headquarters, he and I reached an understanding as to the training and administration of our troops that were to be temporarily with the British. In the first place, they were to be allocated by regiments to British skeleton divisions under such a schedule as might be agreed upon. The training staffs of British divisions were to be at the disposal of these regiments, especially for instruction in the use of the rifle and machine gun, and the handling of gas.

After that, and with the approval of their American division commander, the regiments were to be attached to a British division in line, so each of the three battalions of the regiment would have the opportunity to serve with one of the three brigades in each British division. These battalions were to be commanded by their own officers as a part of the British brigade, while the staff of the American regiment was to be attached to that of the brigade.

In the next stage the American regiments, with their three battalions united under the regimental commander, were to act as a brigade in a British division. The final stage would find the four American regiments of each division united as such under its own officers, the artillery being British until the arrival of its own artillery brigade.

Command in Training

In carrying out this scheme the tendency at first was for British officers actually to assume command of our units in training. Our officers in most cases permitted this to be done until it was checked by my orders that "American units must be commanded in training by the officers and noncommissioned officers who are to command them in battle," and that American troops would in all cases be commanded in battle only by Americans.

The programme probably expedited preparation, but questions of food, transport and methods arose which demonstrated that any attempt at permanent amalgamation would have surely lead to friction and inefficiency. Because they were needed elsewhere none of the divisions sent to train with the British remained long enough to carry out the prescribed course, except the 27th and 30th.

Following a suggestion by Lord Milner I went to London April 22, 1918, to consider further the shipment of American troops. At our first conference there were present Lord Milner and General Sir Henry Wilson, who had succeeded General Robertson as the Chief of the General Staff, Harbord and myself. The main point of difference that had developed in previous conferences as to just how far the Americans should be committed to serve in active operations was again considered.

Opposed Merging

I stated that the main thing was to get our units trained, and that while I was opposed to amalgamation, yet if during the period of instruction the units with which they were serving should be attacked or if another great emergency should arise of course our men would go in. Naturally the British wanted unlimited infantry and machine gun units, but I would consider nothing further than a limited extension of the six-division plan.

During the conference, a cable from Lord Reading to the Prime Minister was brought forth which stated that the President had agreed to the amalgamation of Americans with the British. I had nothing official at hand later than the President's conditional approval of Joint Note No. 18 of the Supreme War Council as suggested by Secretary Baker, so I promptly said that it could not be possible that any such concession had been made and that the classes of our troops to be shipped over and their disposition must be left to me.

Of course, we knew that the British were pressing this point by constant appeals to the President, and that they were insisting that he should agree to the shipment of 120,000 infantry and machine gun units per month for four months to the exclusion of all other personnel. While the British conferees had concluded from Lord Reading's cable that their case was won, I took quite another view and declined to consider the information as conclusive.

With British Army

As a result of these discussions, we reached an agreement which provided for the shipment in May by British and American tonnage of the infantry, machine gun, engineer and signal troops, together with the various unit headquarters, of six divisions for training with British army. It was provided that any shipping in excess of the amount required for this number of troops should be utilized to transport the artillery of these divisions; also that such personnel as might be required to build up corps organizations should then follow, it being understood that the artillery regiments would train with the French and join their proper divisions when this was completed.

To meet any emergency that might require an excess of infantry after the completion of this programme, it was agreed that all the American and British shipping available for the transportation of troops was to be used under such arrangement as would insure immediate aid to the Allies, and thereafter as far as possible provide other units necessary to complete the organization of our divisions and corps.

It was further agreed that the combatant troops mentioned in connection with May shipments should be followed by such Services of Supply and other contingents as we ourselves might consider necessary, the shipment of a large number of these troops having been postponed, and that all these troops should be utilized at my discretion, except that the six divisions which the British were to transport would be trained with them.

Plan Approved

Reaching Chaumont, I found that a cablegram dated April 26, had been received, transmitting a memorandum dated April 19 that had been sent by direction of the President to the British Ambassador at Washington in conformity with his approval of Note No. 18. In this memorandum the shipment of 120,000 infantry and machine gun units per month for four months was conceded, with the understanding that their assignment for training and use should be left to my discretion.

It went on to say that the United States, until the situation changed, had no intention of departing from as full compliance with the recommendation of the Permanent Military Representatives as the nature of the case would permit.

This was the first official information I had received that the Administration had agreed to send any specific number of infantry and machine gun units to France.

The following quotation is a continuation of the memorandum:

"It being also understood that this statement is not to be regarded as a commitment from which the Government of the United States is not free to depart when the exigencies no longer require it; and also that the preferential transportation of infantry and machine gun units here set forth as a policy and principle is not to be regarded as so exclusive as to prevent the Government of the United States from including in the troops carried by its own tonnage from time to time relatively small numbers of personnel of other arms as may be deemed wise by the United States as replacements, and either to make possible the use of a maximum capacity of ships or the most efficient use of the infantry and machine gun units as such transportation, or the maintenance of the services of supply already organized and in process of construction for the American army already in France."

This concession went further than it was necessary to go and much further than I had expected. Realizing the complications that might arise from commitments so far in the future and the delay in forming an American army that would follow, I did not agree in later discussions at the Supreme War Council with all that the Allies now felt justified in demanding. I was opposed to the action of the Supreme War Council in assuming the power under any circumstances to dispose of American troops. It was not in any sense a prerogative of the Supreme War Council.

Difficult Situation

There can be little doubt that Lord Reading received the distinct impression from President Wilson that infantry and machine gun units would be sent to France at the rate of 120,000 men per month for four months, beginning with April. That the President agreed to this "in principle" is practically certain. It need not be further emphasized that such a concession, even though prompted by the most generous impulse, could only add to the difficulties of our task of building up an army of our own.

It is probable that Lord Reading, skilled advocate that he was, did more while Ambassador at Washington to influence the Administration to grant Allied requests than any other individual.

The Secretary of War upon his return caused the Administration's position to be somewhat more clearly defined and modified, but the statement still left much to be desired in the way of a positive declaration of our purpose to have our own army. It left a very definite notion in the minds of the Allies that the Administration at Washington was favorable to amalgamation, and that the main obstacle to be overcome was the military head of American forces in France. This is doubtless the reason why all the Allied verbal "heavy artillery" was often turned in my direction.

The agreement made in London, as actually drawn, while insuring the shipment of largely increased numbers of troops did not commit us to sending infantry and machine gun units exclusively beyond June 1. The concession we made for May was a radical departure from the sane policy of bringing over balanced forces in complete organizations, but the clamor was so great and the danger of calamity seemed so imminent that the temporary departure from that policy was thought to be warranted as a means of helping the Allies.

Source of Trouble

The question of applying conscription to Ireland was then under consideration of the British, and it seemed probable, according to views expressed more or less guardedly, that British troops would be required to enforce it. Inasmuch as such a measure might possibly have affected the attitude of American troops of Irish origin toward service with the British, our argument was strengthened regarding the desirability of keeping our own troops together and organizing them into an American army at the earliest possible date.

Further discussions with officials and other engagements in London during my visit are noted in my diary of April 24, 1918, as follows:

"Called Monday on Ambassador Page, who spoke of heavy losses by British and said my offer to Foch had greatly pleased them.

"Talked with Admiral Simms, who thinks decreased danger from submarines warrants sending troops by our smaller ships.

"On Tuesday Winston Churchill told me that as the German attack was a month later than expected, they had plenty of artillery and could help us out.

"Called on Mr. Lloyd George, who is gratified to have Americans with British army. Discussed Allied Supply plan with him but got little encouragement.

"Had luncheon with Major and Lady Astor.

"Dined informally at St. James' Palace with Duke of Connaught, who does not share the gloomy outlook."

JOAN CRAWFORD STAR OF "PAID"

Screen Version of "Within the Law" Opens Today at Dominion

Joan Crawford reaches the pinnacle of her interesting career as the heroine of "Paid," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre as a talkie version of Bayard Veiller's celebrated stage play, "Within the Law."

This is Miss Crawford's first straight dramatic role and in it she achieves a brilliance of characterization that will establish her among the front ranks of dramatic stars. The role of Mary Turner becomes amazingly realistic in Miss Crawford's understanding hands and throughout the picture she maintains an even tempo of emotionalism that lends a convincing tone to her performance.

Sam Wood has outdone himself in directing this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer underworld story.

STAGE FAMILY BASIS OF FILM

"The Royal Family of Broadway" Portrays Private Life of Great Actors

Frederic March, who is being hailed as the newest "weakness" of feminine film fans, will be seen at the Coliseum Theatre today in a picture that gives him a chance to display romantic and comedy talents which he has hitherto held in abeyance because of the requirements of his roles.

The picture is "The Royal Family of Broadway," Paramount's filmization of the celebrated stage play, "The Royal Family."

"The Royal Family of Broadway" deals with the doings of a family of actors who have been leaders in their craft for generation after generation. This clan of great actors, known in the play as the Cavendishes, are seen in a clever presentation of their lives at home, where the daily and hourly topic of conversation is the stage, which they have so long and so gloriously dominated.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE "Soldiers and Women," the successful stage play by Paul Hervey Fox and and George Tilton, has been adapted to the movies by Columbia Pictures. The film is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. Leading roles are played by Aileen Pringle and Grant Withers.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Humanising gangster types on the screen is the ambition of Eddie Cline, who directed First National's "The Widow From Chicago," now playing at the Columbia Theatre. The cast includes Neil Hamilton, Edward G. Robinson and Alice White.

CAPITOL THEATRE Three great Mercedes Benz touring cars, a Peugeot, a Daimler, two Renaults, a Panhard Levassor, a Minerva and a pair of Isotta Franchinis provided a part of the local color for some scenes in the sparkling comedy of European diplomatic life, which was directed by Malcolm St. Clair, and which closes today at the Capitol Theatre with an all-star cast, including Betty Compson and Ian Keith.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN MALAHAT PARK CO. INJUNCTION REQUEST

Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice Gregory on the application of counsel for the Malahat Park, Limited, for an injunction against the B.C. Cement Co., to restrain that company from further depositing dust on the plaintiff's property. Argument was concluded yesterday.

The application of an injunction was based on the verdict of a jury which agreed that dust from the company's plant had been deposited on the properties in question, but the jury did not award any damages. The Malahat Park, Limited, sued in Supreme Court recently for damages, alleging that the deposit of dust had materially affected the sale of the property on which it had been proposed to establish a Summer resort and golf links.

Harold B. Robertson, K.C., who appeared for the plaintiff, intimated to Mr. Justice Gregory that, if an injunction was granted, the Malahat Park, Limited, would be content to hold the injunction in abeyance for a period of six months to permit the B.C. Cement Company, at Bamberton, to install an improved method of dust collection. H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the defendants.

A Never-Failing Comfort for Colds, Coughs, Catarrh, Has Been Discovered

MRS. M. E. Walford writes from East Sheffield: "For three years I suffered with a hard racking cough and bronchial irritation which annoyed me so much at night that my rest was disturbed. I tried catarrh tablets, sprays, syrups, etc., but they only helped me for a short time. Catarrhozone brought me wonderful comfort. I inhaled its balsamic fumes every hour or two, and am now free from any trace of cold, bronchitis and catarrh. I can go out in all kinds of weather and don't take cold."

Relief Comes Quickly

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. All reliable dealers.

HISTORIC CHOIR TO SING IN VICTORIA

If one walks down the historic Strand, the most ancient part of London, in a secluded nook somewhere near the law courts, one will find His Majesty's Chapel Savoy, one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the world.

Founded in 1246 and rebuilt in 1524, this quaint and beautiful little church, which is really a private chapel of the kings of England, boasts one of the finest boys' choirs in Europe. These lads, Children of the Chapel Savoy as they are known, are a piece of the England of ancient days. Through the efforts of Dr. Henry Bromley Derry, master of music to the chapel, the Duchy of Lancaster, the office through which the King identifies himself with the chapel, has been prevailed upon to permit the children to leave England for the first time in seven hundred years. Taking advantage of this permission, the children will tour and give concerts in all the principal cities of Canada, and in some of the largest cities in the United States.

The personnel consists of twelve boys, who will appear under the conductorship of Carlton Borrow, director of the choir. Their repertoire will be a varied one, consisting of part songs, glees, and, above all, of church music. They will appear at their concerts dressed in scarlet and gold costumes surmounted by the quaint Tudor ruff, exactly the same dress, in fact, in which they appear upon all festival occasions in London. This wonderful concert will be heard at the Metropolitan Church, Wednesday, March 4.

SENTENCED TO HANG

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—Abraham Steinberg, thirty-one, today was convicted of the murder of his business partner, Samuel Goldberg, and sentenced to hang on April 21. Goldberg's body, with a bullet wound through the skull, was discovered in their joint office.

Nearly 200 theatres in Italy are showing talkies.

THE SCREEN MAGAZINE SAYS:
How you'll enjoy this one. It's even better than the stage play about the celebrated royal family of Broadway. I didn't say the Barrymores, did I?—their glittering careers, their slightly mad private lives. The crazy "Tony," played by Frederic March; beautiful "Julie," Ina Claire; her daughter, Mary Brian, and "Fanny," the Grande Dame, Henrietta Crosman. Grand cast . . . poignent dialogue . . . sparkling situations. Drama, too, all the material and trappings of the more romantic theatre. It is a fascinating picture . . . one of the much better films.

NEW GLASS IN FRANCE

Flexible grass which does not cut when broken into pieces, may be used for windows of railroad cars and buses in France. French lines are testing it. The new glass does not contain any wire reinforcement, and is unlike any other previously made. Upon being broken, the glass crushes into thousands of tiny pieces, similar to gravel, and may be handled without fear of injury from cuts.

Two Passengers Are Killed When Plane Noses Into Ground

Western Canadian Air Mail Service Machine Makes Second Fatal Crash While Flying Blind in Fog West of Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 (CP).—The second fatal air crash in the history of the Western Canada air mail service tonight claimed two lives. Caught in a sudden fog about seventy-five miles west of Winnipeg, the Moose Jaw-bound mail carrier broke up in landing and burst into flames. The dead are Dr. Richard E. Alleyn, thirty-five, Winnipeg, and G. Lewis, Vancouver.

Pilot N. G. Forrester, of Western Canada Airways, who was at the controls, was injured but will recover. He is being treated at hospital at Portage la Prairie, fifteen miles east of where the plane crashed. Dr. Alleyn and Lewis were killed instantly, it was stated.

Dr. Alleyn, medical officer for Western Canada Airways, has been termed Winnipeg's "flying doctor." He was en route westward to examine pilots for the company. Lewis was bound for Regina. The mail was recovered, it was announced here.

Norregia Expedition Plane Follows Coast Line and Drops Documents

OSLO, Feb. 20 (AP).—The new land discovered in the Antarctic by Captain Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen's Norvegia expedition has been named Princess Ragnild's land, for the infant daughter of Crown Prince Olaf who was born June 27, 1930.

Captain Riiser-Larsen, in a radio message to the Foreign Office, said that the expedition's seaplane had traced the coastline of the new land from a point 70.30 south, 70.30 south latitude and 24.15 east longitude to 68.40 south and 33.30 east. The plane dropped a Norwegian flag, accompanied by documents of occupation, while flying over this area, so as to establish Norwegian possession.

TAFT'S TRIP UNEVENTFUL

United States Mail Liner Arrived on Schedule From Orient Ports

TRANSSHIPPED SILK AND GENERAL HERE

Arriving at William Head shortly after daybreak yesterday morning from ports in the Philippines, China and Japan, the United States Mail Line Ss. President Taft, Commander K. A. Ahlin, came up to the ocean docks and found the Royal Mail Line Ss. Empress of Japan still alongside Rithet Piers discharging cargo, and heading for Ogden Point, she tied up at the Canadian National docks at 8:30 o'clock. Officers of the Taft reported the usual Winter crossing, with snow squalls on the Japanese side and lots of rain approaching Vancouver Island. In all the President Taft had 127 passengers aboard, ninteen in the cabin and 108 in the steerage. Cargo comprised 3,000 tons, including silk and general. For overland shipment, the liner discharged 140 tons at Ogden Point, including some silk. The silk will be picked up by the Canadian National ferry and the ordinary freight loaded in box cars at Point Ellice.

NAVAL OFFICERS

Among the passengers on the President Taft were Dr. E. A. Neff, who is connected with the medical service at Suva, Fiji, and after touring the Orient is proceeding on a visit to his home in Eastern Canada; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stevens, en route to New Hampshire on a visit, the former being connected with the Siamese Government; S. Segerman, a fur merchant of Shanghai, on a business visit to New York; Captain M. Ridley, formerly master of the Ss. President Hayes, returning to San Francisco from Manila; and Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. A. W. ## ONE SHIP OUT OF EVERY EIGHT IDLE

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—F. C. Allen, president of the Chamber of Shipping, last night told a meeting of the chamber that the volume of British shipping tonnage idle is equal to one ship out of every eight. "A large proportion of the ships that are kept running are sailing part empty," he said, "and the rest are running without profit."

White Liner Clips Three Full Hours From Former Mark

Steaming From Yokohama Breakwater to Race Rocks, the Empress of Japan Established New Crossing Record for the North Pacific

Clipping a little better than three full hours off her previous best passage of the North Pacific, the Canadian Pacific flyer Ss. Empress of Japan arrived at Race Rocks Light early yesterday morning, just 8 days 3 hrs. 12 mins. from Yokohama breakwater, from which point departure was taken for the run.

While conditions are not ideal on the North Pacific during the Winter season for achieving records in steamship passages, the latest acquisition of the Canadian Pacific Steamships to its fleet of trans-pacific greyhounds managed to make better time than was made on her initial crossings during the ideal weather of last Summer.

The great 26,000-ton vessel was not extended at any time on the run from Yokohama to Victoria, and when an extra hour or two will be necessary in the future to make up for unforeseen delays or to hold the coveted blue ribbon of the greatest of oceans, her engines will not fail to deliver the required speed. They have not yet got down to their bearings, and without question will do much better.

Naturally, Capt. S. Robinson, O.B.E., R.N.R., commander of the Japan, takes great pride in the performances of his ship and, with Chief Engineer Lamb, appreciates her possibilities when the crucial test comes to be demanded of her.

An interested passenger on the ship coming across was Capt. E. Aikman, R.N.R., superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Limited, at Vancouver, who was returning from an extended business visit to Hongkong, where the ships of the company are docked and groomed for their record-breaking runs. He was greatly pleased over the Japan's fine passage, and would talk of nothing else while the ship was alongside Rithet Piers. It was plenty, the fact that the big ship could make the time with such comparative ease, while the knowledge that she also possessed great reserve power in her engine rooms helped to make his cup of elation overflow.

The big liner had a small passenger list, about 200 in all, there being forty-three in the first class, twenty-one in the second class, eighteen in the third class, and 118 in the steerage. The Japan's cargo amounted to 2,500 tons of general, including 410 measurement tons of silk, which will be forwarded East by special silk train when the ship arrives at Vancouver. For water transhipment to New York via Panama some 500 packages of raw silk were discharged here, and the shipment will go South on the Ss. Ruth Alexander, Sunday morning.

Among the passengers arriving were G. H. Frary, Canton, connected with the Standard Oil Company of New York, proceeding home on leave; Major-General and Mrs. H. G. Harries, Chicago, the former being president of the Harries Trust Company of that city, returning home after a visit to the Far East; A. C. Thorpe, manager of Martelli Brothers, Cognac, on a world tour; Captain E. Aikman, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, returning home to Vancouver after an extended business trip to the Orient; and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ross, Sumatra, where the former is a prominent planter, proceeding home to Scotland for a vacation.

Others aboard were Commander and Mrs. Baker, Hongkong, the former being commander of H.M.S. Petersfield, en route to England on holiday; H. E. Arnold, member of the firm of Arnold & Company, Shanghai, proceeding to England; Madame F. Rosenberg, Shanghai, on a business trip to the United States; Wong Kam-Fuk, compradore of Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company, a justice of the peace and a brother-in-law of Sir Robert Ho Tung; Dr. Sik To Wong, a prominent doctor of Hongkong and a son of Wong Kam-Fuk; and D. J. MacKenzie, Shidzuoka, where he represents the Irwin Harvisons Whitney, Inc., of Chicago, proceeding to the East on business.

Also included were Hans Wisgler, Tokio, general representative in Japan for Messrs. Escher Wyss & Company, Zurich, proceeding to Switzerland on business; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Embree, Chicago, returning home from a trip to Japan; Lieutenant and Mrs. J. P. Hord, Teintsen, en route to the Eastern States; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. West, Manchester, the former being an ex-Lord Mayor of that city and at present director of Wests Gas Improvement Company, Limited, who is returning through Canada and the United States to his home in England; C. B. Geake, Yokohama, connected with the Rising Sun Petroleum Company, en route to England on leave; and C. R. Leaber, Tokio, where he is connected with the National City Bank, New York, proceeding to the Eastern city on business.

"You're a peculiar galoot about your millinery. Only a nut would get a hat with a square brim." "I got this because I'm practical. I have a square face to shade. If I had a face like yours I'd get a hat shaped like a . . . " (Kindly draw straight lines between the numbers.)

"PLUCK" FOR "COURAGE"

That "pluck" should stand for courage, grit and determination, casts an interesting sidelight on former days when it meant something different.

"Autres temps, autres moeurs," say the French, and nowhere is this axiom better illustrated than in the vagaries of language or the nuances of words—like "pluck" for example.

"Pluck" originally was a butcher's term meaning "heart." And we have it in the sense which it enjoys today because the heart was considered to be the seat of courage.
